Whiteside Declares Plan to Put Burden of Subway Rentals on Public Illegal

"Boston is opposed irrevocably to the bill which provides for the assumption of subway rentals by the communities served by the Boston Elevated Company."

This statement was made today at the Elevated hearing by Alexander Whiteside, corporation counsel of the city of Boston.

"Furthermore," he added, "we will contest this bill in every court possible. It is not legal, it is unconstitutional and will not stand, I firmly believe, in any court."

These remarks came after Samuel L. Powers, who closed for the trustees, made the statements that unless the road was relieved of the Cambridge subway and subway rentals in order to purchase rolling stock and rehabilitate the road, the fare will have to be raised. He also added that the zone systems must be tried out because it was a promise made by the trustees to the citizens of Boston and to others served by the road and they were in honor bound to give the zone system a trial.

LEGISLATURE FOOLED.

Mr. Whiteside, after he had thrown down the gauntlet in regard to giving up of subway rentals, stated that the Legislature of last year was completely fooled by the legislation which was passed.

"I am no advocate of wholesale public ownership, but I prefer to do a good job on this matter. This is only piecemeal legislation. It is all for no purpose. Why not buy the road outright and let the public handle it entirely. I appreciate the position of the trustees, but this legislation is of no value, and rather than piecemeal legislation the State may as well acquire the road outright and operate it."

Last year's legislation he characterized as fooling the public, Mayor of Boston, corporation counsel and even the legislators themselves.

He said the act provided for payment of dividends for ten years to stockholders on an insolvent proposition, that it takes care of the road and puts it in better shape for the next ten years than it ever was before, and that it guarantees the laying aside of $2,000,000 for depreciation.

This latter item, he claimed, could be appreciated when the former L road only charged off each year for a good many years past only $98,000 for depreciation.

Mr. Whiteside further pointed out that if these so-called burdens are lifted from the shoulders of the Elevated there is nothing which shows the fare will be reduced. He also added that the public will have to pay the bill anyway, which eventually comes out in rentals and increased prices.

TRYING TO BREAK CONTRACT.

Others heard in opposition were Frank Seiberlich, representing the Jamaica Plain Citizens' Association; Central Club and Quinnebaquin Lodge I. O. O. F. James D. Brooks and Raymond P. Delano, representing the Dorchester Improvement Association.

Here's an Honest Man; Send the News to Old Diogenes

Diogenes went forth with a lantern in search of an honest man and died before he accomplished his task.

Here's a man who never undertook such a search, but who really found an honest man.

John T. Lawler, a mail carrier living in Marblehead, and for eighteen years connected with the Boston postoffice, received a special delivery letter last night containing five dollars and a confession, scrawled in pencil. The writer told of entering the home of Lawler's father about twenty-two years ago on an errand, and not finding anyone at home rummaged about, found five dollars and took it. He kept his secret until now. Having become prosperous since that time he recalled the incident and decided to return the money to some member of the family. Lawler cannot recall who it might be, but, according to the letter, Lawler and he were playmates. The letter bears a Boston postmark.

Washington Raids Baltimore for Liquor Supply

By International News Service.

Baltimore, Feb. 25.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars was spent in this city for liquor yesterday and last night by Washingtonians, who came to Baltimore in droves and laid in their "personal supply" of liquor before President Wilson could sign the revenue bill, which made the District of Columbia "bone dry."

Streams of automobiles left the capital early. Thousands more took trains, steam and electric. Some came in trucks. It was the biggest one day's sale of "booze" in the history of Baltimore. Purchasers paid any price asked without a whimper.

PARADE ON PATRIOTS' DAY

Men of 26th Division Sail for Home Early in April, Sailing Schedule Shows

The 26th Division will be home by Patriots' Day, judging by a combination of announcements today from Washington and France.

If plans now in shaping dovetail together just right it may be possible for the gallant Twenty-sixth, or parts of it at least, to return home in time to take part in a parade on that patriotic holiday.

The latest word today was a Paris cable containing an official announcement by Brigadier-General James W. McAndrew, chief of staff, that the division would sail for home in April.

This order tends to confirm a cablegram received by Mrs. Charles H. Cole from Brigadier-General Cole of the 26th, that he "will be home about April 15."

Governor Coolidge has received a message from Secretary of War Baker that cable advices indicated that the 16th had been ordered by General Pershing to prepare for return, although it has not been designated for early convoy. The general order, however, by Brigadier-General McAndrew at Paris includes the 26th for the April troop sailings.

SCHEDULE OF SAILINGS.

The sailing schedule for the next four months is planned as follows, according to Brigadier-General McAndrew:

March—The 27th, 85th, 37th and 91st Divisions.

April—The 26th, 77th, 82d, 35th and 42d.

May—The 32d, 28th, 33d, 80th and 88th.

June—The 89th, 90th, 29th and 79th.

It will be noticed that the divisions are not given in numerical order, leaving the inference that they are listed in the intended sailing order. In that case the 26th is set for the first April sailings.

Secretary Baker's message to Governor Coolidge gave warning that different elements of the 26th would arrive on different ships at different times. Secretary Baker has cabled a request that all units of the division be assigned to vessels which, clearing at about the same time, can be routed to Boston.

LETTER FROM BAKER.

The secretary's communication in full was as follows:

"Hon. Calvin Coolidge,
"Governor of Massachusetts
Boston:

"My Dear Governor—Your telegram of February 7, relative to the desire on the part of the people of Massachusetts that Boston be designated as the port of debarkation for the 26th Division, was duly received.

"I am happy to inform you that cable advices received on February 11 indicate that the 26th Division has been ordered by General Pershing to

MOTORIST DENIES GUILT; HELD IN $300

Charles M. Wheldon of Ricker road, Newton, appeared in the Roxbury Court today, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and endangering the lives and safety of the public. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $300 bail until March 5. Wheldon was driving his car along Commonwealth avenue, near Hinsdale street, when he struck another and caused it to overturn.

REVENUE MEASURE NOW LAW

Digs Into Purses of Public to Get Funds to Meet War Expenditures

Washington, Feb. 25.—The House this afternoon formally voted discharged soldiers, sailors and marines ownership of their uniforms when the conference report on the uniform bill was adopted, without a record vote. The report also carries a five-cent mileage, including railroad fare to homes for all discharged soldiers.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The $6,000,000,000 revenue bill is now law. President Wilson made it so by attaching his signature to the famous measure. This was his first official act since his return to this country through the Boston doorway.

Secretary Tumulty carried the bill to Boston with him and had it ready for presentation as soon as the President should call for it. In the whirl of the Boston reception the bill did not come up for executive attention until the President was aboard his special train and on his way here. A short time before retiring, the President called for the bill and signed it.

TOUCHES ALL POCKETBOOKS.

The bill makes the law that reaches into all pocketbooks effective.

Incidentally, the bill makes the District of Columbia "bone dry." Even bringing intoxicants into the District for one's own use is a punishable offence.

The bill levies $6,000,000,000 in taxes this year and $4,000,000,000 yearly thereafter until revised.

TO MEET WAR BILLS.

This is the measure upon which the increased Federal income taxes for 1918 and 1919 are based. It is the bill which is piling surtax upon tax, so as to help Uncle Sam meet the staggering war bill he has rolled up to help make the world "safe for democracy."

For example, under the old law a

Revenue Bill Carries $60 Bonus for Heroes

Washington, Feb. 25.—The United States government now owes nearly 2,000,000 men each $60. With the signing by the President shortly before midnight last night of the great $6,000,000,000 revenue bill, which appropriates a bonus of $60 to every service man upon his honorable discharge, every discharged soldier, sailor and marine who has been honorably discharged is now eligible to claim this amount from the government, it was announced at the Treasury Department today.

The $60 bonus applies to officers and nurses as well as to enlisted men. Applications for the bonus should be sent to the Director of Finance of the War Department in the case of soldiers and army nurses and the Paymaster-General of the Navy in the case of sailors, marines and naval reservists and navy nurses. All applications must include the men's discharge papers and service records.

GIRLS PROTEST 'DISMISSAL' AS UNPATRIOTIC

Twelve young women went to City Hall today to register a protest at the Mayor's office against their alleged discharge by a business establishment for taking Wilson day "off." They told their story to Secretary Edward Moore.

The twelve were employed until yesterday, they said, at the Rand Avery Company, No. 117 Franklin street, a book-binding establishment. They took the holiday Monday, they explained, in accordance with the proclamation issued by the Governor and Mayor.

On return to work today they were told by a foreman named Temple that their services were no longer desired. They said they did not want their jobs back, but wished to protest the concern's act.

An official of the Rand Avery Company denied today that girls employed in the bindery had been discharged when they reported for work this morning, because of refusal to work on the day of the President's arrival home from Europe.

"They were discharged," he said, "as the culmination of difficulties that began several months back. Ninety-five per cent. of the company's work is for federal-controlled institutions. Owing to the labor shortage during the war we have been hard pressed for months in our efforts to keep up with orders.

"It became necessary to apportion to each day an amount of work that must be accomplished. When our employes walk out or fail to show up for work in the morning this schedule is completely thrown out.

"The girls discharged had been warned repeatedly that a repetition of such an offence would necessitate discharge."

In reply to a question as to the exact number of girls discharged, it was stated that eight or nine girls from the bindery had been discharged and three men from another department. It was stated that the step was taken partly as a "weeding out" measure on grounds of general incompetency.

RIOTS LEAD TO MARTIAL LAW IN GRATZ, AUSTRIA

Amsterdam, Feb. 25.—Martial law has been proclaimed at Gratz, in Austria-Hungary, as a result of riots.

BEATEN UP AND ROBBED IN HIS OWN DOORWAY

"Take everything I have, but don't break my arms," Charles F. Beckwith, an optometrist with a place of business on Winter street, coolly told three men who felled him in the hallway of the house at No. 578 Newbury street and systematically began the process of "beating him up." One of the men had pinned Beckwith's arms behind his back and was twisting them.

The thugs cleaned everything from Beckwith's pockets and took all his jewelry, including two gold hand-carved pins, one set with sapphires, the other with rubies, each valued at $100. Even his notebook and the keys to his apartment and office were taken, he said.

One of the men, Beckwith told the police, is about twenty years old, is five feet six inches in height, weighs 115 pounds, of dark complexion and is smooth shaven. He wore a dark brown overcoat and dark soft hat. A second is about twenty-two years of age. He was unable to secure any further descriptions.

METHODS SCORED BY WOMEN

Suffragists Protest Treatment, but "Jane Doe" Action Proceeds

"We refuse to be railroaded. We demand a public hearing."

This was the ultimatum delivered to Chief Justice Bolster in the Municipal Court today by a spokesman for the twenty-five militant suffragists arrested yesterday for an incipient attempt to heckle President Wilson.

Three of the women refused to appeal from fines of $5 each imposed on them for attempting to heckle the president. Then when payment was demanded the suffragists refused to pay the fines.

Martha Foley, one of the three women, was removed from the room after her refusal to pay.

SAID HER NAME WAS "BETTY."

Miss "Josephine Collins," another of the three women, sealed her lips rather than answer to the name when called. She said she would not make a statement or say anything in her defense unless all the members of the party could be heard together. "Miss Collins" was being led from the court room when she turned and shot back to the judge, "My name is not Josephine Collins, it is Betty Collins."

The third woman also refused to give her name or to pay her $5 fine.

Miss Alice Paul, president of the National Woman's Party of Washington, was highly indignant at the treatment accorded the women by the Boston officials.

"We will tell the world of the treatment we received in Boston," she said. "Way back in the time of Henry VIII. there were revolutions against such 'Star Chamber' methods as the Boston police are trying to 'pull off.' It is against the law. It has been against the law for centuries and I cannot understand what Massachusetts is thinking of to permit such injustices.

"In Washington and in Philadelphia, when we were arrested, we were given public hearings and decent consideration. Today we have all our witnesses and all our friends

MAINE HOUSE VOTE UNANIMOUS FOR SOLDIERS' SIX MONTHS BONUS

REPRESENTATIVES ADOPT MAHER'S RESOLUTION

Augusta, Me., Feb. 25.—The House of Representatives of Maine today voted unanimously in favor of a resolution urging Congress to give honorably discharged soldiers and sailors a bonus of six months' pay. The resolution, similar to one recently passed by the Massachusetts House of Representatives, was introduced earlier in the day by Representative Benedict F. Maher of [illegible] Republican leaders of the State.

The text of the resolution follows:

"Whereas, thousands of soldiers and sailors in the service of their country are daily being discharged from the army or navy of the United States; and,

"Whereas, such discharged soldiers and sailors are encountering considerable difficulty in securing employment because of the conditions existing in industrial affairs of the country at this time; and,

"Whereas, In the opinion of the Legislature of Maine, it is the duty of the national government to assist such discharged soldiers and sailors until they have reasonable opportunity to secure employment; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Legislature of Maine hereby requests the Congress of the United States to pass suitable legislation for the purpose of providing six months' additional pay for soldiers or sailors upon their discharge from the service of the United States; and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent by the Secretary of State to the President of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the National House of Representatives and to members of the Senate and House in Congress from this State."

Hundreds of Names Added Daily to Petitions for Bonus to Service Men

Hundreds of names being added daily throughout New England testify to the increasing popularity of the Boston American's petition for six months' pay for soldiers, sailors and marines whose supporters now number nearly 200,000.

"The doughboy is worthy of the dough" is the way one writer expresses his appreciation of the petition and its purposes. So likewise is the "Gob," and the marine who is first to fight.

The circulation of this petition through factories and business houses goes on unceasingly and is the means of bringing it to the attention of many people who otherwise might defer signing it until the petition had been forwarded to the Secretaries of War and the Navy, to whom it is jointly addressed.

PETITION WINS FAVOR.

That no one has refused to sign this petition who was asked to do so is a daily story told by volunteer workers that does not stale with repetition. It is proof that the petition has made a ten strike with the people; that it has by its patriotic appeal struck a responsive chord in the hearts of all alike.

Letters expressing the gratitude of the writers to the Boston American for inaugurating this petition come in nearly every mail. In many cases the writers are relatives, often mothers or fathers of men in service.

Many write also to thank the Soldiers' Service Bureau for other service performed. Mrs. Carl Olsen of No. 174 Fisher avenue, Roxbury, is among the latest to write to the legal department of the bureau expressing her thanks for its successful efforts in securing the transfer of her son, Albert, from the U. S. General Hospital in Rahway, N. J., to Base Hospital No. 10 at Parker Hill, so that he would be near home and she could visit him.

In cases where the need is great the Soldiers' Service Bureau has brought about the discharge of men whose earning ability is needed at home to keep a family from want and suffering.

The bureau is ready to answer at any time, through its lawyers, questions concerning allotments, allowances and insurance or to give such other aid as its experts may in any other direction be asked by discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, or their families.

LEGAL ADVICE FURNISHED.

More and more employers are co-operating with the bureau in finding work for honorably discharged service men. Many employers have written to state that they have positions for others besides their own men who entered the service. Nearly all plan to take their former employes back.

H. Alfred Hansen, general manager of the H. C. Hansen Type Foundry, writes concerning his intention to re-employ those who answered the call of the country as follows:

"Boston American:

"Gentlemen—Some few days ago you wrote us a letter in reference to the re-employment of our boys just coming from the front.

"In answer we would state that we have taken back all those who have returned to date, and it is our intention to take back all others who were formerly employed as soon as they return and desire to come back with us.

JOBS FOR SERVICE MEN.

"As fast as business and prospects warrant, we are finding employment for others who have not been formerly with us.

"We feel that other employers, from what we have learned, are anxious to take the boys back as they return or to find employment for them.

"Very truly yours,

"THE H. C. HANSEN TYPE FOUNDRY.

"H. Alfred Hansen, General Manager."

The Soldiers' Service Bureau of the Boston American is dedicated to the purpose of doing things for the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. It is for officers and men alike. Answers to questions will be published in the American daily, and many personal services will be done for the soldiers and sailors as stated below.

The department is not merely operated as a question and answer column. It is co-operating with similar departments in Hearst's New York American, Chicago Examiner, Atlanta Georgian, San Francisco Examiner and Los Angeles Examiner. The headquarters is in Washington.

Attorneys will answer questions of a legal nature and undertake many kinds of legal work in the courts for officers and enlisted men in behalf of the Boston American and its associated Hearst newspapers.

Please write any suggestion you have for widening the activities of the department.

Address all communications to Soldiers' Service Bureau, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston.

Persons finding the discharge papers of soldiers or sailors should make every effort to return them to their owners. A discharge paper cannot be duplicated. The War Department can only issue a certificate that the discharge has been given. Frequently the owner loses his original, and would greatly appreciate its return.

Much anxiety has arisen because no word has been received from the soldiers abroad for several months. This does not indicate a casualty, but often significant that the unit to which the soldier is attached is about to sail for home.

Petition to the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy to Send Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Home with Six Months' Pay

Sign this petition, get your friends to sign it, and forward it to the Boston American, 80 Summer st., Boston, Mass.

To the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War:
To the Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy:

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers, sailors and marines who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justice by a great nation to its heroes.

(Signed)

SURPLUS JURORS NEEDED FOR FISH TRIAL

First Venire of 125 Discharged Because They Did Not Appear on Day Named

At the fish trial today, Judge Sanderson of the Superior Court allowed the motion of Henry F. Hurlburt, counsel for twenty-seven of the thirty defendants charged with conspiring to increase the price of fish in time of war, and dismissed the venire of 125 jurors because they did not actually appear in court on the day named in their summonses.

Anticipating the action of Judge Sanderson, Attorney-General Attwill and Assistant District Attorney Webber had caused to be prepared a list of surplus jurors in the two criminal and eight civil sessions of the Superior Court. Sixty jurors thus obtained were ordered to report to Judge Sanderson.

After disposing of technical questions which were presented, Judge Sanderson ordered the clerk to proceed and impanel a jury.

As each juror was called he was asked by Judge Sanderson if he were related to any of the defendants, if he had formed or expressed an opinion, was sensible of any bias or prejudice, or was interested in any of the various corporations with which the defendants are connected. All of these questions were answered in the negative and it took less than fifteen minutes to fill the jury box for the first time. Of the first twelve drawn three remained in their seats after challenges had been completed.

$500,000 DRIVE OPENS IN "WHITE PLAGUE" WAR

The care by New England of its own discharged tuberculosis soldiers and sailors will be made possible through the success of the $500,000 drive for the Central New England Sanatorium which opens tonight at the dinner of the executive committee in Ford Hall. Of this amount $300,000 is assigned as the Greater Boston quota. The sum of $500,000 will provide for the completion and full equipment of a seventy-bed sanatorium at Rutland.

B. Nason Hamlin is chairman of the executive committee; Charles B. Wiggin, vice-chairman; Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, chairman of the woman's division. Allan Forbes, president of the State Street Trust Company, is treasurer of the fund.

RUNAWAY HORSE DROWNS IN RESERVOIR

Clinton, Feb. 25.—A runaway horse attached to two large wheels dashed from the Wachusett dam through the rock cut on the line of the Massachusetts Central Railroad, thence to the north dike and then out upon the ice on the reservoir. It finally reached some thin ice and crashed through and was drowned. Tackles had to be secured and the ice broken and the body hauled inshore to where the ice was thicker and it was possible to raise the body to the surface.

ARREST TWO YOUTHS ON AUTO THEFT CHARGE

After, it is alleged, deserting an automobile when stopped by Patrolman Walter Taylor of the Framingham police, who fired two shots at them as they fled, two youths were arrested in Dorchester, charged with larceny of a machine owned by Dr. John B. Brainerd of No. 419 Boylston street.

The boys said they are William Price, eighteen, of No. 130 Draper street, and Harry Smith, eighteen, of 70 Draper street.

CAPTURE BANDIT AFTER GUN FIGHT ON BROADWAY

New York, Feb. 25.—Revolver shots were exchanged in the chase which followed the holdup of a Broadway restaurant. The alleged bandit was booked by the police as Charles McGovern, alias William Smith, alias John Ryan.

He wore a soldier's uniform and was armed with a revolver filled with dumdum bullets. He said he had recently been mustered out of the service after serving five months as a private.

WOMEN ARRAIGNED FOR HAVERHILL LABOR ROW

Haverhill, Feb. 25.—Pauline Flynn and Maude McLaughlin appeared in the District Court today charged with disturbing the peace, in connection with labor trouble. Mrs. Laura Baker says they caused annoyance recently near her home. Theresa Hobart and Frances Anderson will appear tomorrow on the same charge. Mrs. Baker is complainant in their cases also.

FORD FOR TOASTMASTER ON EVACUATION DAY

At the meeting of the Evacuation Day committee held last evening Francis J. W. Ford, president of the Boston City Council, was appointed toastmaster of the banquet to be held at the Hotel Brewster on the night of March 17. The historical exercises will be held as usual in the Municipal building on East Broadway on the night of March 16.

$100,000 NAVY BRIBES TAKEN IN NEW YORK

Complete Schedule of Pay for Commissions and Promotions Is Discovered

New York, Feb. 25.—Officials of the Third Naval District are cognizant of the fact that a cool hundred thousand dollars was "collected" in one lump sum by the ring of crooked naval officers in this district.

Details of the collection of this sum in the traffic of flesh and blood and other incidents showing the rapacity of the naval coterie came into the possession of the New York American yesterday.

While this was the biggest single item of graft so far uncovered, the New York American was informed through other sources of unquestioned reliability that a regular schedule of tariffs for unearned admissions, commissions and promotions was drawn up by the graft ring.

A SCHEDULE OF SHAME.

These schedules, in one way, were elastic, for they could always be revised—upward. One thousand dollars was the total amount that had to be guaranteed. Here is the schedule:

For admission as a coxswain	$250
For promotion to chief petty officer within one month	250
For rank as ensign at the expiration of three months	500

It will be observed that the ring employed psychology here also, for the initial payment being small, the promoters were certain to get the other $750 as soon as the wealthy young slacker got his bombproof job.

The great opportunity for the ring came with an order from Washington to send 1,000 New York "gobs" to [illegible] the purpose of guarding supplies likely to fall into the hands of the Bolsheviki. This was shortly after the Russian revolution. The men were hastily assembled in New York and the ring took delight in placing on the list the names of wealthy young men (many of whom considered their safe berth as "land sailors" certain for the duration of the war).

There was consternation in their ranks when they were ordered to foreign service at a few hours' notice.

100 MEN "COME THROUGH."

Chicago saw the sorrow of many of them turned into joy. For in the Western metropolis the word was discreetly passed that any one who could see his way clear to paying a thousand dollars would be sent back to the dearly beloved "Good Ship, 280 Broadway."

Their hopes were realized. One hundred of the thousand are said to have "come through" with the immunity money. Most of them were sons of wealthy New York manufacturers and merchants.

As soon as the $100,000 graft fund could be assembled by mail and telegraph and through relatives or business associates in Chicago, the lucky "sailors" were returned to New York.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER NEAR MORGAN HOME

MAJOR SAYS 101ST IS COMING LAST OF MARCH

Worcester, Feb. 25.—Major Thomas F. Foley of the 101st Infantry, now in France, has written home that he is at present awaiting embarkation for home.

"I expect we will be here about six weeks," writes Major Foley, "and that we will sail for home about the middle of March. It is quite certain that the boys will be home by the last of March."

ARMED BANDITS ROB TREASURER OF $10,000

Detroit, Feb. 25.—T. A. Starke, treasurer of a local creamery, was robbed of a satchel containing $10,000 by two armed bandits. Starke had just left his place of business to go to the bank when the two men jumped from an automobile and obliged him to give up the satchel. They made good their escape.

OLD GUARD REPUBLICANS FEAR WILSON'S STRENGTH IN BAY STATE

BELGIUM HONORS EDITH CAVELL'S MEMORY

©Photo by INTERNATIONAL

The Belgian people have not forgotten the heroic death of the British nurse who was executed by the Germans and the city of Brussels has dedicated to her memory a handsome monument. Public subscription has been started for the purpose of raising funds to purchase the memorial and in the meantime a plaster of paris monument of the same design has been erected in one of the city squares. The picture shows its beauty of design.

CAMPAIGN MEETING CALLED

Leaders at Tremont Temple Will Seek to Counteract the President's Influence

"The old guard never dies."

Scarcely had President Wilson shaken the dust of Boston from his feet when Republican leaders in Massachusetts began operations to prove the truth of the old saw.

Under the guise of an "Americanization" meeting there will be held in Tremont Temple a week from Saturday night a mass meeting fostered by the "old guard." Its purpose is obviously, to counteract the tremendous political effect of President Wilson's trimuphal return to the United States through the port of Boston.

Fearful of the political effect of the President's personal reception by New England, apprehensive of its results should his triumph turn out to be a triumph of his party, Republicans are said to be bending every effort toward the success of their coming rally.

A GATHERING OF AMERICANS.

Louis A. Coolidge, secretary of the United Shoe Machinery Company, one of the leaders of the reactionary wing of the Republican party, is interested in the coming meeting.

He characterized the approaching mass meeting as a gathering of "Americans." He denied it was called specifically for the purpose of attacking the "League of Nations" as advocated by the President. He insisted there was no political purpose behind it.

"The meeting is being arranged by representative business men," said Mr. Coolidge. "Its purpose is not to attack the President's League of Nations plan. It is purely an 'American' meeting."

"Will the League of Nations be discussed?" he was asked.

"Can any American refrain from attacking the league as advocated by Mr. Wilson?" he countered. "It is not a Republican meeting. It is being arranged by representative men from all parties."

ALL PRECEDENTS BROKEN.

While the leaders of the reactionary element among the New England Republicans were planning to combat what they feared was a party as well as a personal victory for the Democratic leader, the President was nearing Washington aboard his special train. In his mind there could be no doubt of the place he holds in the hearts of Bostonians.

Never in its history has Boston seen a popular hero greeted with such acclaim as was given the city's noted guest.

Whatever may be the attitude of friendly or rival politicians over the visit of the President it is an event that will live long in the minds and hearts of the people of Boston and vicinity.

Every foot of the way from the deck of the George Washington, anchored in President Roads, to the Copley-Plaza Hotel, where he rested; every second of the big reception at Mechanics Building and every step of the trip to the South Station, where he took his leave of Boston, were marked with a rising wave of welcome and godspeed.

WILSON OFFERS THANKS.

"I thank you all for the splendid reception you have given me," were the President's parting words as his train paused a moment at the Back Bay station before speeding him back to Washington.

His departure from the South Station was the occasion for another ovation such as marked every step of his brief visit to the Hub. An enormous crowd was gathered to see him off.

After a parting handshake with Major-General Edwards, Mayor Peters and Sharman Whipple he waved a farewell to Boston.

WOULD SUBMIT LEAGUE PLAN TO REFERENDUM

Washington, Feb. 25.—Adoption or rejection of the proposed constitution of the League of Nations by the United States will depend upon whether a majority of the citizens of this country vote for or against it, if the plan proposed in a bill in the House by Representative Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota is adopted.

Congressman Lundeen proposes that a national vote should be polled on the question and that the majority vote should be accepted by the Senate as an order from the people of the nation to ratify the plan.

NORTH ADAMS TEXTILE WORKERS TO EXPAND

North Adams, Feb. 25.—Arrangements are being made by local textile workers for organization on a scale larger than ever before attempted in this city. Organizer Joseph White of Cohoes, N. Y., will soon come here to make his headquarters for a three-month period, and a number of meetings are being planned. The local branch of the United Textile Workers now has a membership of about 400.

GETTER GOT CASH, BUT THE POLICE GOT GETTER

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Charles Getter "put over" what he thought to be a clever, if criminal, trick on C. C. Kille, an owner of a cafe here. As Kille was locking up the cafe late at night he slipped the bolt on a rear door. Unnoticed, Getter unslipped it. Both men went out of the front door. Getter generously took Kille home in his automobile. Later Getter returned to the cafe, entered the rear door and rifled the cash register of nearly $200. Getter was arrested.

Soldiers Strike When Nurses Are Barred From Dance

Chicago, Feb. 25.—The soldiers at Fort Sheridan are on a terpsichorean strike.

It seems that Lieutenant W. W. Farrell recently issued a ukase barring nurses at the fort hospital from participating in the dances at the post. And they do say the nurses at Fort Sheridan, in addition to being extremely pretty, can sure dance.

Evanston girls, hearing of the order, decided the soldiers should not lack dancing partners, and when the first dance was staged donned their best bib and tucker and to the dance they went.

But right here is where the soldiers called the strike. The doughboys championed the cause of the nurses and refused positively to dance with the Evanston belles.

$10,000,000 FOR U. S. TO TAKE CAPE CANAL

Washington, Feb. 2.—A bill to permit the government to take immediate possession of the Cape Cod Canal as soon as condemnation proceedings are properly instituted was favorably reported to the Senate today by the commerce committee.

The bill appropriates $10,000,000 for the improvement of the canal, with a view to maintaining a depth of twenty-five feet at mean low water with suitable channel widths.

Any sum awarded under the condemnation proceedings is to be paid out of the appropriation. The government is authorized by the bill to operate the canal in accordance with the provisions of the river and harbor act in March 3, 1909.

The passage of the bill at the present session is believed impossible, unless it is carried as a rider to some other measure.

Secretary of War Baker has urgently rejuested, however, that the bill be acted upon within the next three days. In a letter to Chairman Fletcher, the Secretary said the railroad administration was planning to relinquish control of the canal on February 28, after having spent $423,901 on improvements while it was under Federal control.

"On account of this investment by the United States it is desirable that there be no lapse of government control of this canal, and that it should be taken over by the War Department upon its relinquishment by the railroad administration," Secretary Baker said.

USED AS TRAP IN FALSE WILL, GIRL SAYS

Stenographer Testifies in Case of Miss Ranger, Accused of $300,000 Fraud

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 25.—"I was trapped and used as a tool to make a false affidavit, and I repudiated it," Mrs. Louise Godber of Stamford, Ct., asserted on the witness stand today at the trial of Miss Edith Ranger, accused of having a false will produced to secure the $300,000 estate of her brother, Henry Ward Ranger, famous landscape artist.

Mrs. Godber, formerly Louise Langdon, stenographer for Charles Wexler, Stamford attorney, was questioned in regard to an affidavit she made at Wexler's direction identifying a "fraudulent" copy of a will leaving the Ranger estate to Miss Ranger.

"Mr. Wexler brought the copy of the will to me and asked me if I did not recognize it as a copy of a will typewritten by me on January 5, 1916. I told him I did not remember it. Then he showed me a photograph of Mr. Ranger and asked me if I didn't remember taking the will at his dictation. I told Mr. Wexler that I might have seen the person.

"So Mr. Wexler told me to sign an affidavit stating that I did recognize the copy and that the will was made by Mr. Ranger. I did so. Then I found out that I had been duped and used as a tool and I repudiated it.

"I signed another affidavit telling the whole truth about the matter. I signed it for Judge Lockwood of Stamford."

Service Notes

Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, commanding the Northeastern Department, put forth a plea today to keep those officers in the army who had showed splendid work during the present war. General Edwards thinks the times are ripe to pick such officers and put them in the regular ramy.

To help the dependants of soldiers getting their blanks properly filled out and sworn to, Captain Thomas J. Johnston, war risk insurance officer, has been appointed a notary public. Those who have services in the army will not be charged any fee.

CAMBRIDGE BOY DYING AFTER GUN BATTLE

Father of Frank Potter Visits Him at Hospital; 3 Policemen Wounded

Springfield, Feb. 25.—Frank Walter Potter of Cambridge, who was arrested in Palmer following a shooting affair in which he severely wounded three policemen, is believed to be dying. He is wanted by naval authorities for desertion, it was learned today after a visit from his father, Walter L. Potter of Cambridge.

The elder Potter visited his son at the hospital where the latter was taken after the shooting, but the boy was too weak to talk much. He said nothing about the shooting.

The men whom Potter wounded are Detective James M. Daly of Springfield, Deputy Sheriff George A. Bills of Palmer and Patrolman Charles Thomas of Palmer.

The two officers most seriously wounded, Sheriff Bills and Lieutenant Daly, were reported today to be improving. An operation was performed on Daly.

Walter L. Potter said that he could not account for the actions of his son. He did not know that the boy was a deserter, he said, but had supposed him to be at home on furlough. It was learned that Frank had been ordered a month ago to report at Deer Island Dentention Camp, but had failed to do so, and had been absent without leave ever since.

"He has always been a good boy until this happened," said Mr. Potter.

According to the father's story, he awoke about 2 a. m. Monday to find Frank in his room. He thought little of it until later, when he learned that the boy had broken into his place of business, No. 1108 Massachusetts avenue, and taken $800 worth of Liberty bonds, $35 in cash and a twenty-five-calibre revolver. The father reported the matter to the police without mentioning the revolver. He expressed regret today that he had not told the police about the weapon, believing that had he done so the threatened tragedy might have been averted.

The boy's mother, he said, was prostrated.

Young Potter was first noticed in sailor's uniform in Springfield by Lieutenant Daly on Sunday. Later he appeared in civilian dress and the officer went to his room at the Cooley Hotel to question him. Potter gave his home address and Daly tried to get the place by telephone. Failing, he ordered Potter to police headquarters.

The young man whipped out his gun and fired three shots. Daly dropped and Potter escaped. He was seen to board a train for Boston, and was arrested when the train reached Palmer, by Officers Bills and Thomas. In resisting arrest, Potter "shot up" the smoking car, wounding the two officers.

EX-SOLDIER HELD ON AUTO LARCENY CHARGE

Melvin R. Clark, twenty-four years old, of Gainsboro street, was arrested in Revere by Lieutenant Albert of the Revere police and Special Officer Matty of Station 16, Boston, on a charge of larceny of an automobile owned by Joseph L. Kock of the Hotel Westminster. It was stolen from the corner of Berkeley and Boylston streets on January 30. Clark was recently discharged from the army, where he ranked as a sergeant. When taken he wore the uniform of a lieutenant.

FUNERAL OF J. E. COLE, WIRE COMMISSIONER

The funeral of James E. Cole, wire commissioner of Boston, who died of heart disease in Allston Saturday, was held today from the home of his son, Harry C. Cole of No. 64 Perham street, Roxbury. Rev. Harold G. Arnold of the West Roxbury Unitarian Church officiated. Mr. Cole was appointed wire commissioner of Boston in 1908 by the late Mayor Hibbard. He held office during the terms of Mayors Fitzgerald, Curley and Peters. He is survived by two sons.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF WOMAN AT HOSPITAL

Medical Examiner George B. Magrath has refused to make public the result of the autopsy performed upon Mrs. Jennie W. Rosen, who died last Friday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Her brother, Frank Warren, said: "There has been a grave mistake in connection with Jennie's death. The whole thing rests with Dr. Magrath and he will not discuss the case now." He said that a conference with Magrath had been arranged for today.

BOY SLIGHTLY HURT BY QUINCY MAYOR'S AUTO

Mayor Whiton of Quincy in his automobile ran down and slightly injured fourteen-year-old Dan Cantillie of No. 47 Hayden street, when the boy stepped directly in the path of the automobile on Hancock street today. The lad was carrying a large box and came from behind a street car. The hood of the Mayor's car was smashed by the box. The boy was taken to the Quincy City Hospital.

2 KILLED, 35 INJURED IN ILLINOIS TRAIN WRECK

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Two persons were killed and thirty-five injured when a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul local passenger train struck a spread rail and plunged over a forty-foot embankment, six miles west of Rockford, Ill. Some of the injured will die. The entire train went down the incline.

5,000 IN RUSH TO FILE STATE TAX PAPERS

Flood of Questions Keep Attendants at Office on the Jump

Crowds jammed and pushed, men and women elbowed and jostled each other, and a steady stream of would-tax officials that if the morning State income tax office at No. 40 Court street today in an eleventh hour rush to file their State tax returns before the gong rings on Friday night.

The score of clerks behind the long counter on the second floor of the Scollay Building were deluged with a promiscuous assortment of questions and returns and all but driven to desperation by the eager crowd.

Owing to the big drive the accommodations for assisting the public in filling out their returns proved sadly inadequate. The already limited quarters of the tax office were literally "taxed" beyond their capacity.

The seething mass of humanity overflowed the accommodations of the office itself and mushroomed through the doors into the mosaic-floored corridor.

Impatient individuals, preferring not to suffer the inevitable delay in securing space at the counter, resorted to all manner of makeshifts for a hard surface upon which to write.

Men and women knelt upon the marble floor, using the oak benches for writing desks, and made out their returns with fountain pens or pencils. Other persons, unable to take advantage of the benches in the corridor, craned their necks at an angle of 45 degrees and, placing their returns against the smooth-tinted walls, filled in their returns in utter oblivion to their surroundings and appearance.

It is estimated by State Income Tax officials that if the morning rush of visitors continued throughout the day the wants of fully 5,000 persons would be attended to before nightfall.

An additional force of clerks had been enlisted with a view to handling the rush, but today's avalanche of belated taxpayers nearly deluged the augmented force of workers.

BISHOP LAWRENCE TO SEEK HEALTH AT AIKEN

Bishop William Lawrence, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence and their son, Rev. William Appleton Lawrence of St. Stephen's Church, Lynn, have left Boston for an extended stay at Aiken, S. C. The bishop has been ill for several weeks and hopes to fully recover his health by the trip. He and Mrs. Lawrence will stop over in New York for several days to visit their two daughters, Mrs. Morton L. Fearey and Mrs. Lansing P. Reed.

U. S. S. NORTH CAROLINA COALS UP AND DEPARTS

The U. S. S. North Carolina, after taking on 1,400 tons of coal, steamed out of Boston harbor today. The Galveston will sail tomorrow. The destroyers Gamble, Stringham, Harding and Meredith have all departed, according to an official statement made today by Rear-Admiral Spencer S. Wood, commanding the First Naval District.

NEW "JAZZ" DANCES NOT POPULAR AT SHREWSBURY

Shrewsbury, Feb. 25.—The latest jazz dances are not popular in Shrewsbury where there has been a demand for the old-time, dreamy waltz, the two-step and five-step schottische, also the old-fashioned square and contra dances. Even the younger set is not enthusiastic over the latest "rags," prefering the modified form of the one-step, foxtrot and glide waltz.

GIRL'S CRIES SAVE MAN FROM DROWNING

Cries for help by Miss Ruth Ingraham, thirteen, of Braintree, saved George Mortenson of No. 35 Arthur street, Quincy, from drowning in the old Braintree reservoir. Mortenson was crossing the ice when he broke through. Miss Ingraham heard his cries and crawled out on the ice to reach him. Her screams attracted someone on the shore, who pulled in a fire alarm. The ladder truck responded and Mortenson was pulled out by means of a ladder.

ILLINOIS BREWERIES ARE TO MANUFACTURE SUGAR

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 25.—Distilleries here and at Pekin are to be converted into sugar manufacturing plants. A new process of sugar making from corn has been developed and patented, the announcement says.

Dempsey Must Win Title in 10 Rounds, Says Rickard

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 25.—If Jack Dempsey has any notion of making himself heavyweight champion of the world he will have to hustle it over in ten rounds, Promoter Tex Rickard said today. On this ten-round limit, Rickard considers, depends whether the mill may be witnessed in this country. Several States, Rickard asserted, will permit a ten-round bout.

Rickard admitted that the choice lies between Pennsylvania and Oklahoma, with the odds in favor of the former State.

Rickard declared a ten-round bout will furnish as much real fighting as a longer engagement, as the fighters will be forced to eliminate introductions and get down to business with the first gong. Rickard will leave for New York Friday to receive bids for the bout.

One in Every 20 a Drug Addict in New York, Says Expert

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 25.—One man in every twenty in New York State is addicted to the use of narcotic drugs—a dope fiend. And nine out of ten of these morphine slaves are being swindled daily by proprietors of fake drug "cures" or by ignorant administering of so-called narcotic drug remedies by reputable physicians.

This appalling condition of affairs was revealed in a report by Ex-Senator George H. Whitney, pioneer in narcotic legislation, made public today.

Ex-Senator Whitney, as chairman of a special legislative investigating committee, heads the opposition to the proposed abolition of the State bureau for narcotic drug control. Instead of abolishing the bureau Mr. Whitney and his co-workers in the fight against the use of drugs will urge the Legislature to combat the drug evil by seeking scientific cures to be administered by the State.

GALLANT WORK BY YANKEES IN RUSSIA

By COUNT G. DEMERINDOL.

Special Cable Dispatch to Universal Service and the London Morning Post.

Archangel, Feb. 24—(Radio via London)—I have just returned from a fortnight's visit to the American and allied fronts, where I witnessed a Bolshevist attack and a most gallant repulse in the American sector.

In addition to a battery in the American position there were several strongly fortified blockhouses.

The counter-attack which we were expecting came on Feb. 10. We were awakened at 5 o'clock by shouts:

"They're attacking us!"

In a few moments the men were all at their posts. After firing 400 shells the Bolshevik forces succeeded in capturing one blockhouse, but had to retire with heavy losses shortly afterwards.

One of the most striking and most glorious episodes of the fight was the defence of one of our blockhouses by half a dozen English non-commissioned men. All six were killed, but not before they had accounted for a large number of the enemy.

The attacks and counter-attacks I witnessed on various fronts recalled the warfare of two centuries ago rather than the campaign just ended. The individual valor and courage of each soldier counted for more than the mere word of the command.

The difficulties on these fronts are different from those of the great war. There were arches through the woods full of thick, soft snow which made it almost impossible for the soldiers to drag their toboggans along with them.

The nights were spent under canvas in extremely cold weather. The line was so extended that the commandant of a single company had to be responsible for a front of twenty versts (nearly twelve miles). All these things helped to create an accumulation of difficulties unknown in the fields of France or Flanders.

CANADIAN PRELATE RETURNS FROM MEXICO

New York, Feb. 25.—The only way in which permanent order can be established in Mexico is by seeing that the rights of all people are respected, according to Rt. Rev. Mgr. Alfred E. Burke of Toronto, who went to Mexico two months ago to bring about more amicable relations between the Catholic church and the Carranza government. Mgr. Burke declined to state the results of his mission. He traveled from Mexico City to Vera Cruz in a special car furnished by President Carranza.

MUNICH GARRISON JOINS SPARTACANS

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The entire garrison of Munich has joined the Spartacans, according to latest word from the revolt-swept Bavarian capital. The "Reds" have arrested many prominent men, including all majority Socialist ministers.

Bavarian government troops are in the outskirts of Munich preparing for a decisive battle with the Spartacans.

PENNSYLVANIA JOINS PROHIBITION STATES

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—Pennsylvania joined the list of prohibition States today when the Senate, by a vote of 29 to 16, passed the resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the Constitution. The House passed the resolution several weeks ago.

N. Y. GIRLS BAN LINGERIE IN STRIKE FOR RAISE

New York, Feb. 25.—Ten thousand New York girls are going to lay aside their lingerie today. The girls, who are employed in the women's underwear industry here, voted to strike for a forty-four-hour week and higher wages.

STEAMER SAGAMORE RUDDERLESS IN GALE

Portland, Me., Feb. 25.—As the result of losing her rudder in a gale, the steamer Sagamore, Halifax for Boston, is anchored in the harbor here. She will be towed to Boston.

LYNN SOLDIER GETS 6 MONTHS' SENTENCE

Court-Martial Punishes Others at Devens; Several Promotions Announced

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Feb. 25.—Three general courts-martial were made public in orders today. Private Clarence E. Durgin, A Company, 36th Infantry, of No. 161 Union street, Lynn, who escaped from a guardhouse November 25, was sentenced to Fort Jay, N. Y., for one year and to forfeit all pay and allowances. The reviewing authorities lopped off six months. He will be dishonorably discharged from the service at the completion of his sentence.

Private Hugo V. Magnuson, D Company, 36th Infantry, was given a year at Fort Jay for desertion, but six months were taken off by Major-General McCain. He will forfeit two-thirds of his pay. At the expiration of his sentence he will be dishonorably discharged. His home is at No. 21 Townsend street, New Haven, Ct.

Private John Klemm, 15th Depot Brigade, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was found not guilty of being absent without leave from October 6 to October 15. He was ordered released from confinement and restored to duty.

Demobilization of the utilities department will begin this week. To date 182 men are slated for discharge. Recently the men made an appeal through the American asking the authorities to release them from the service. All married men and those with dependents will be the first to go. Many of the men are from Boston.

Other promotions were made today in the 425th Motor Transportation Company. To be sergeants:

Corporals Joseph A. Sprague, Carl S. Webster and Arthur J. White and Private Sylvester A. Lazierre. To be corporals: Privates Cyrille C. Desy, John A. [illegible], Charles Clark, John R. Graham, Samuel Levitan, Oscar Michaud, Samuel Freedman, Freeman Harvey, James J. Merrill and Noah Stevens.

HURLEY ASKS INDUSTRIES TO HELP SHIPPING PLANS

Business and other industries will be asked to co-operate toward the formulation of a national shipping policy, Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the National United States Shipping Board, announced today. The board has asked the United States Chamber of Commerce to call a national conference of all interests concerned and prepare plans for the best operation of the merchant marine. These plans will in turn be submitted to nation-wide organizations such as the Grange, the American Bankers' Association, the mining and farming interests, the railroads, etc. In a letter to Governor Coolidge, Chairman Hurley asks that the matter be laid before the various business interests of Massachusetts.

SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR 3 ARLINGTON OFFICES

Arlington is warming up to a red-hot town election. There are seven candidates seeking three offices. There are three candidates for selectman. They are Arthur Birch, present member of the board of public works, whose term expires in March; Olvin H. Lufkin and Edward T. Ryan. Frederick C. Gardner and Clarence A. Moore are seeking the vacancy on the three-year term on the board of public works, and John L. Pichette is opposing Loren W. Marsh, who is seeking the two-year term on the same board.

WINCHENDON TO TRY MUSKRAT MEAT

Winchendon, Feb. 25.—Several of the local markets will have a new kind of meat for sale with the opening of the Spring season on muskrats on March 1. A recent bulletin from the Department of Agriculture explaining the use and preparation of muskrat flesh as a food made an impression on some of the men who annually catch between three and four hundred in this section, and they have prevailed on the market men to give it a trial.

GAMBLING MACHINES BANNED IN NEWPORT

Newport, R. I., Feb. 25.—Once more has the town sergeant been instructed to remove the slot machines and gambling devices from the shops of Narragansett Pier. But as in the past, the proprietors will probably remove them from the front room to the rear, and in a few days they will appear in their old places again. Newport got rid of her slot machines some time ago, and is doing no gambling these days stronger than a few desultory crap games down the wharves.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS BRITISH LABOR QUESTION

Paris, Feb. 25.—"The International Commission on Labor Legislation held its thirteenth meeting on Monday afternoon and considered articles of the British draft and the question of economic penalties upon the State failing to carry out the obligations imposed under the international labor convention," said an official communique today.

PALMOLIVE

The Natural Cleanser

Nature, herself, supplies the ingredients which make Palmolive Soap such a perfect cleanser. Its smooth, creamy, profuse lather, and wholesome, natural color, are due to Palm and Olive oils, discovered 3,000 years ago in ancient Egypt.

Palmolive cleanses without harshness—the lather is instantaneous whether the water is hard or soft, hot or cold.

WILSON SIGNS 6-BILLION BILL ON REVENUE

married man with a net income of $3,000 was exempt from taxation. Under the 1917 law he was taxed $20, or 2 per cent. on income over $2,000. But under the new law, the $3,000 man pays a tax of $60, or 6 per cent. on all over $2,000.

The tax is 6 per cent. on the first $4,000 of net income and 12 per cent. on net income over $4,000. The surtax begins at $5,000 and runs on a graduated scale to 64 per cent. of the amount over $500,000 and not over $1,000,000. On the part of the income in excess of $1,000,000 the surtax is 65 per cent.

President to Make One More Public Speech Before Sailing Again

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 25.—President Wilson will make one more public appearance in addition to his probable address to a joint session of Congress before he sets sail on his return trip to Europe on March 5.

This was formally announced at the executive offices of the White House today.

And in the meantime, it was stated, the President will devote as much of his time as possible to the reconstruction problems now facing the nation.

It was stated that he will confer with the Governors of the various States, and many mayors who have been summoned here by Secretary of Labor Wilson for a great reconstruction conference.

It was also said in circles close to the President that he seems more determined than ever to carry his fight for indorsement of the League of Nations directly to the people and the possibility that he might forego an appearance before Congress was hinted at very broadly.

The belief was gaining strength that if the opposition that has arisen has not cleared away by the time he returns from his second trip abroad, he will make an extensive speaking tour including the entire country.

The President today reiterated his confidence that he expects the American people "will rally with practical unanimity" to the support of the League of Nations. This expectation was expressed by the President in a telegram to Theodore E. Burton of New York city, president of the League of Nations Union.

When the President arrived at the White House this morning he found the telegram from Mr. Burton awaiting him. It pledged the League of Nations Union to support the League of Nations and welcomed the President as the "recognized leader of the League of Nations movement."

The President immediately wrote a reply personally, not waiting for a stenographer, and dispatched it.

Following is Burton's telegram to President Wilson:

> "The League of Nations Union, a merger of the World Court League and New York Peace Society, welcomes you as recognized leader of League of Nations movement and pledges co-operation in rallying public opinion and in securing united action in support of the league.
> (Signed)
> "THEODORE E. BURTON, President."

The President's reply was:

> "Honorable Theodore E. Burton
> New York City.
> "Your message greatly appreciated. Am myself confident that the people of the country will rally with practical unanimity to the support of a plan in which the whole world is looking to them to be the leaders.
> (Signed) "Woodrow Wilson."

TO SAIL AGAIN MARCH 5.

It was definitely announced that the President would sail for France again on March 5. This occasioned no surprise, however, following the radio message last week from Commander McCauley of the George Washington stating that the President had ordered that the vessel be made in readiness for return on or about that date.

The President entered the executive offices promptly at 9 o'clock and immediately buckled down to hard work. None of his corps of assistants had put in an appearance, evidently believing that the President would not be prepared to start work the minute he returned. As a result he went through a large batch of correspondence personally and in many instances penned replies.

The President's only engagement this afternoon was with the Cabinet. It was announced that he had requested Vice-President Marshall, who has presided at all the meetings during his absence, to be present. Just what the significance of this action might be was not stated. The belief was expressed, however, that possibly the chief executive may not be able to devote his time to the entire session and that he will request the Vice-President to preside over the latter part of the meeting.

General Edwards Thanks Uniformed Men for Their Aid in Wilson Reception

The following letters were sent today to Governor Coolidge and Rear-Admiral Spencer S. Wood, commanding the First Naval District, by Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, commanding the Northeastern Department, for their part in making the reception to President Wilson a success.

The letters are:

> "My Dear Governor:
> "I wish to thank you, your adjutant-general, the commanding general of your troops and each officer and man of the State guard for the efficient manner in which they performed their duties upon the arrival of the President yesterday.
> "They were in their position exactly on time and no body of troops could have presented a neater or more military appearance.
> "Please extend my thanks also to Captain White and the First Troop Cavalry, which acted as the mounted guard of honor, and Lieutenant-Colonel Decrow and the First Motor Corps, which acted as guard of honor at the hotel.
> "Both of these organizations presented an excellent appearance and performed their duties in a thoroughly military manner.
> "Yours truly,
> "C. R. EDWARDS."

> "My Dear Admiral Wood:
> "I desire to thank you for the efficient co-operation which the Naval forces gave to the Army during the ceremonies connected with the visit of the President on yesterday. Your officers and sailors were in their position promptly to the minute and presented a neat and impressive appearance.
> "I request that you convey my appreciation to all the officers and men concerned, including those officers who composed the guard of honor.
> "Yours truly,
> "C. R. EDWARDS."

Colonel Albert S. Williams, chief of staff of the Northeastern Department, sent this letter to Police Commissioner Curtis:

> "General Edwards has directed me to express to you, to Superintendent Crowley and the police force of Boston thanks for their able and efficient manner in the performance of their duties and co-operation with the army upon the occasion of the President's visit."

RUPPRECHT IN PLOT TO RULE BAVARIA

By ALFRED G. ANDERSEN.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London, Feb. 25.—A gigantic plot to overthrow the Socialist regime in Bavaria and restore the throne, involving Prince Joachim, sixth son of the ex-Kaiser; Rupprecht, former heir to the Bavarian crown, and others, was unearthed today by investigators at Munich.

Army officers, members of the nobility and industrial barons were involved. They maintained headquarters at Partenkirchen, in upper Bavaria.

The arrest of Rupprecht is probable.

Count Metternich, former Bavarian envoy to Berlin, Count Schmettow and other high officials were involved.

Prince Joachim, who was deported from Bavaria, is now safe at Potsdam.

"Moderate" Workmen Gain Upper Hand in Capital of Bavaria

Copenhagen, Feb. 25.—"Moderate" workmen at Munich have apparently gained the upper hand, according to information received here today.

40,000 Armed Workmen Led by Max Lewen Ready for Battle in Munich

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

London, Feb. 25.—Forty thousand idle workmen at Munich have been armed by the independents (radicals) and further trouble is inevitable, said a dispatch from that city to the Daily Express today.

"We are armed and ready for battle," declared Max Lewen, a member of the Soviet government at Munich.

The fifty aristocrats seized as hostages at Munich, following the arrest of Prince Leopold, brother of former King Ludwig, have been informed that they will be shot at once if any attempt is made to restore the monarchy.

Max Lewen, who appears to be the chief Spartacan leader at Munich, was a former professor of zoology. He declared the Spartacans were ready to fight to impose a minority dictatorship upon Bavaria.

"The Soviet demands the arming of all workers and the abdication of Commandant Durr as czar of the city," declared Lewen. "Victory is ours," declared the Bolshevik leader later in a speech. "Go home, comrades. The Soviet lives."

After standing still for five minutes Lewen shouted: "I stand in Eisner's place. Where is my assassin?"

As Lewen spoke his sweetheart, who is also his secretary, stood beside him attired in a flaming red dress.

Munich is barricaded and the Landtag building is under an armed guard.

Warnings have been issued to the citizens and it is regarded as possible that another outbreak similar to that led by Karl Liebknecht in Berlin may follow.

Armed guards representing the Bavarian republic and the Soviets patrol the city simultaneously. Commandant Durr declared he would not arm the workmen and that he would not abdicate until ordered to do so by the Bavarian council.

Conference to Defer League Action Until Wilson Returns

By ROBERT J. PREW.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Nothing will be done with the draft of the League of Nations until President Wilson returns to Paris, it can be authoritatively stated today.

Efforts have been made by some of the delegates, notably the British, to hasten consideration of the covenant by bringing the matter before the council of ten in the President's absence. The American viewpoint, however, is that the President was so closely identified with the constitution that nothing should be done in his absence to modify the text of any important essential, and this view will certainly prevail.

In view of this consideration the summoning of neutrals to Paris to get statements of their position will be delayed until the middle of March.

CLEMENCEAU TO RUSH PEACE PROGRAM

By JUSTIN McGRATH,

Staff Correspondent Universal Service.

Paris, Feb. 24.—(Radio via London)—The French are now coming round to the American point of view that delay in making peace with Germany is making for great unrest.

If Premier Clemenceau's condition had not improved, it is learned authoritatively, the Premier had intended to resign rather than cause further delay in the negotiations.

If this should happen, Andre Tardieu will take his place as president of the conference.

France is not objecting now to the proposal of rendering sufficient aid to Germany to enable her to resume business, stabilize her government, and make certain the payment of reparation and indemnity which France must have to put her on her feet financially.

But France is disturbed over the prospect of Germany annexing Austria. Italy is also very much disturbed. Switzerland, too, is much concerned.

A protest by Italy and Switzerland is among the possibilities.

The American view is that junction of German-Austria with Germany would be self-determination and, therefore, in accord with President Wilson's fourteen points.

Reparation by Foe Now Chief Question for Conference to Settle

By SIDNEY DARK.

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Reparation by Germany is now the question of outstanding interest at the peace conference.

The French are opposing the American view that indemnities should not be extended to cover the payment by Germany of the allies' cost of the war.

The French view in a nutshell is: "Put everything on the bill and then get as much as possible."

It is now practically certain that the nations other than the "big five," who are to form part of the League of Nations, will not be called in for their expression of adherence until after the return of President Wilson next month. There was some disposition to call in certain neutrals for the purpose of having them signify formally their intention to join the league, but the Americans felt that the entire matter should be left open until the President gets back.

ENGLAND SLOW TO SEE CAUSE OF GROWING LABOR UNREST

By FLOYD MacGRIFF,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 25.—Labor, in Great Britain, is on the offensive, an offensive following several generations of deep-rooted discontent. The British Isles are honeycombed with industrial unrest which, though quieted in one section one day, breaks out the next in another area.

The workmen are on the warpath, determined to achieve and enforce a Magna Charta of living and working conditions—conditions which they now have come to regard as undeniable rights—for the third and lower middle classes.

This unrest, bubbling up from heretofore suppressed wells of discontent, soon develops from rivulets to torrents, and, though they may be dammed or diverted temporarily, continue bursting out unexpectedly because fundamental underlying causes are not remedied.

INDUSTRY JEOPARDIZED.

In so far as labor is concerned, the United Kingdom was never in a more critical situation. Industry, now attempting to convalesce from the war, is jeopardized by the upheaval. The position of the government, which made certain definite and glowing promises to the working classes just after the armistice, is imperiled to no slight degree, for unless certain advantages are speedily assured the organized workers they will not hesitate one moment in putting the country into a chaotic state.

However, if the government proposes measures too advanced to suit the fancy of the Conservative majority in Parliament, the coalition government's power is thereby weakened.

And labor, while supported by public opinion in reasonable demands, is handicapping its just claims and retarding the possibilities of ameliorating unjust conditions by Bolshevist tendencies.

The "plunderbund" of entrenched industrialism, half frightened by anarchistic outcroppings, stands ready, in a half-hearted and belated manner, to grant small concessions when there is no other way out, and these advances, long denied, serve only to whet labor's appetite for further concessions and opportunities.

EMPLOYERS BLIND TO FACTS.

Labor has just grievances in plenty. But those men having it in their power to improve the status of the working men in this country act only begrudgingly, if at all. One of the greatest obstacles in labor's onward march to a better day is the almost total lack of comprehension or belief by the employers that the workingmen should be enabled to rise much above his present standard of life.

The employers, labor leaders and the government are not united in any plan for the continued well being of all three. The employers are simply on the defensive. The government, busy with peace problems, has allowed the matter of the labor reconstruction to drift.

As a consequence the labor men themselves, often acting independently of their recognized leaders in cooperation with radicals, have adopted forcible means of men to gain only insignificant ends.

Labor, loyal throughout the war, although the cost of living advanced while wages did not go up one-half of that as a whole, now demands that evils which existed prior to the war be wiped out altogether with counteracting conditions following peace and insuring labor more of the material comforts in life.

WAR ON PROFITEERS.

One of the immediate causes of unrest is the high cost of food, clothing and other necessaries. Munition factories which paid higher wages are no longer operating. But stories of profiteering still rankle in the laborer's mind.

Trade union gospel, operating through the trade union party, has endeavored to inculcate a belief that the government is capitalistic and that better conditions can come only through a genuine labor government.

Demobilization has dumped more than one million men on the labor market, and, due to disorganized conditions to be expected in the readjustment of industry from war to peace, thousands of men have been out of work.

LABOR UNIONS GROW.

Therefore, they are striving independently to get on solid ground and go forward. Shorter hours and no decrease in pay have been put forward by the labor men as one way of assuring work for the returned soldier.

Labor wants to know what position women will have in industry. Women virtually kept labor alive during the war. Labor's power has gained ground since the war, tens of thousands of new members joining the unions, while sacrifices made by the workmen and soldiers make them feel that they are entitled to more than a bare subsistence wage.

Before the war, the wage standard in the majority of industries was sufficient only to enable the worker to keep body and soul together. The wage standard enabled the worker (a majority of manual workers) to live in a hovel, rear children, for whom inadequate schooling facilities were provided, and to indulge in plenty of cheap beer which was provided in sufficient quantities.

Take the simple matter of food costs. The impression prevailed that food would be more plentiful and cheaper when the fighting ceased. As a matter of fact, it isn't to any marked degree. High costs touch everything. A spool of thread which cost five cents before the war now costs fifteen.

SITUATION MORE ACUTE.

With laborers coming into the ranks of the unemployed, especially women, the situation is made even more acute.

That the situation will be sensibly and effectively dealt with by the government, which will involve ramming certain progressive principles down the throats of adamantine employers reared on the bottle labelled "intensive conservatism," is not doubted, but whether the unrest will be quieted before there are any serious disturbances is a matter of conjecture.

SERVED IN FIRST TRENCH SANS RIFLE OR REVOLVER

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 25.—Serving in the front line trenches without rifle or revolver for protection until one of his comrades was "knocked off," is an experience of the war related by Private H. F. Fla-Havhan of the One Hundred and Tenth Infantry. The soldier said that none of the boys kicked when they were ordered into first line positions without arms. "We simply obeyed orders," he explained. "There was not much fighting going on there at the time, but there were plenty of trench raids. I did not get a revolver until one of the boys was 'knocked off.'"

Lift Out Your Corns

ICE-MINT
THE NEW DISCOVERY ENDS
All Foot Troubles

This new discovery, made from a Japanese product, is certainly a wonder the way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen, burning, aching feet. It takes the soreness right out, then the corn or callous shrivels and lifts off.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful. Just think! Not one bit of pain while applying Ice-Mint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

You will never have to cut a corn again and run the risk of blood poison. Say good-by to your old corn salve, plasters and bundling tape, for that pet corn of yours is sure to be a "goner" if it ever feels the magic touch of Ice-Mint.

It imparts such a delightful, soothing, cooling feeling to the feet that you will sigh with relief.

Ice-Mint is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet. It prevents foot odors and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, swollen feet the treat of their lives. It costs little and there is nothing better.—Advertisement.

Providence, Feb. 25.—The Sunday baseball bill will be reported by the House of Representatives Judiciary Committee in the form of local option after several minor changes have been incorporated. It is said that State political leaders have given the word to "cut it loose" from committee and a report of the comittee is looked for this week. It is conceded that the Sunday baseball bill will pass the House, from whence it will be transmitted to the State Senate for concurrence.

ACCUSE TWO OF BLUE SKY LAW VIOLATION

Nashua, N. H., Feb. 25.—Nicodemus Rodavicus was arrested here charged with violating the Blue Sky Law by selling stock in a Lithuanian development company without a license. Peter J. Huris was arrested in Brockton, Mass., on the same charge and was held for the Nashua police. They sold stock in exchange for Liberty Bonds, it is charged. Rodavicus resides in Brockton. When captured he had several hundred dollars' worth of Liberty Bonds in his possession, the police say. The stock was sold to local Lithuanians.

ARLINGTON BOAT CLUB BOASTS 33 IN SERVICE

The Arlington Boat Club has had thirty-three members in the service of the United States during the world war, and an official roll of honor list of their names has been issued by the club. Among the members who were in the service was Willie L. Baker, the crack A. B. C. bowler.

ASK EMPLOYERS TO GIVE SERVICE MEN PREFERENCE

Pawtucket, Feb. 25.—Manufacturers have been asked by United States employment officials to give preference to "service men" in hiring help. It is reported that a great number of honorably discharged men are unable to secure work. A general request all over the State will be made by State officials who are said to have difficulty in securing employment for hundreds of men returned from camps as well as a number of men who wear overseas service stripes.

DISTRICT NURSES TO REVIEW GRIP EPIDEMIC

The thirty-third annual meeting of the Instructive District Nursing Association will be held in the chapel of the Old South Church, Boylston and Dartmouth streets, tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Mary Beard, director, will report on the work of the association during 1918, and Miss Sadie E. Miller and Theresa S. [illegible], memorial nurse, will tell about "The Epidemic—A Day in Roxbury."

CLAIM 165 VOTES FOR GILLETT AS SPEAKER

Washington, Feb. 25.—Representative Mann of Illinois still claims that he has enough votes pledged to give him the speakership of the next House. But some of the more ardent supporters of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts were claiming as high as 165 pledged votes today.

Miss Elsie Gordon Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Pimples

"Itching and eczema started on my foot due to the heat of my blood. It itched so that I could not sleep at night. The eczema started in scales on the side near the ankle, and spread to the sole, and when I scratched, my foot got sore. I had to wear white stockings and low shoes all the time, or I would not be able to work.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura and I decided to try them. I used one cake of Cuticura Soap and part of a box of Cuticura Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Elsie Gordon, 21 Waite St., Springfield, Mass., July 26, 1918.

Once clear keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for every-day toilet purposes and Cuticura Talcum to perfume.

THEATRES

"CAMILLE" IS GIVEN FINE PRODUCTION

"Camille," the ever-popular romance of French life by Alexandre Dumas, was presented last night for the first time this week at the Arlington Theatre by the former Castle Square Stock Company. Leah Winslow, playing the leading role, is worthy of the highest praise. Her work of interpreting the dying Camille in the last act was so vivid and realistic that one felt as though the original of Alexander Dumas was reincarnated. This is her last week, it is announced, and surely the patrons of this theatre will regret her departure.

Dudley Ayres played the role of Armand Duval, the ideal young lover who had worshipped Camille, and when opportunity afforded a meeting between them lost no time in acquainting her with that fact. Their love becomes mutual and Camille heeds his warning to go to the country, give up Paris and its night life, and regain her health.

In the midst of her happiness sorrow looms. Armand's father pleads with her to give him up, and to prove her love she does. Armand is made to believe her unfaithful. Later he meets her in Paris, in the midst of her old life and in the company of Count de Varville, whom he believes is the cause of her going away. He denounces her before all. Later, she is nearing the end of her life in a dismal garret, when Armand comes along and understands all. She dies in his arms.

MODERN and Beacon Theatres—Two photoplays opposite as the poles in theme were presented for the first times in Boston yesterday at the Modern and Beacon Theatres. Mabel Normand, accomplished comedienne of the screen, was shown in the pictured version of "Sis Hopkins." The little star played perfectly the role of the country hoyden who rises from lowest to highest estate through many an adventure that was freighted with humorous incident, the development of the character and the story comprising one of the best screen offerings seen for a long time.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—Heading the program at the Orpheum Theatre and deserving special mention is the one-act drama, "Submarine F-7," as complete and pretentious a production as has been presented in vaudeville. The scene shows the interior of a submarine while on war duty at sea. It is a vivid, thrilling play, and is enacted by a capable cast of players. Other acts on the bill were Donovan and Lee, in their skit, "Doing Well, Thank You;" Van and Morris in a comedy singing skit; Brown and Jackson, comedians; Gallarini and son, in a musical act; and Cunningham and Marion in songs and comedy. On the screen there were shown the latest news pictures, Mr. and Mrs. Drew in their new comedy, "Once a Mason," and the photoplay, "The Indestructible Wife," picturing Alice Brady.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA—The strenuous methods of the late Colonel Roosevelt in achieving reforms are recalled in "Hell Roarin' Reform," having Tom Mix as its star, which is presented at Gordon's Olympia Theatre. The play deals with the evil spirits of Tarantula, a bandit-ridden town, whose outlaw residents oust the preacher—and it is Mix's task to shoot religion and righteousness into the place. The cowboy star does this with his customary dash, tackling the job with the same degree of directness that Roosevelt used in tackling trusts, malefactors, mollycoddles and undesirables. Nevertheless new thrills are had in "Hell Roarin' Reform," which is declared to be the liveliest Western drama in which Mix has appeared. Among other things, Mix leaps on horseback from the upper balcony of one building to the roof of another, plunging through the roof with his horse; he rides down a steep mountain trail at a headlong gallop, routs a band of stagecoach robbers by firing three guns at one time and shoots a pipe out of a man's mouth.

GLOBE THEATRE—As well rounded a bill of photoplays as the most ardent enthusiast could wish for was offered yesterday at Loew's Globe Theatre, the program continuing unchanged through the week. The first Boston showings were given of Alice Brady in "The Indestructible Wife." It is a study of the nature feminine detailing the propensities of a flirtatious woman who does not let the bonds of matrimony interfere with her penchant of corraling the affections of the opposite sex. Constance Talmadge is seen in "Romance and Arabella," also a translated play. This is a delightful comedy for the most part, the central figure being a young woman who seeks to make her choice of life partner through the medium of romance.

WALDRON'S CASINO—A musical production of more than ordinary magnitude and worth is the "Maids of America," presenting a new two-act satire entitled, "Without Rhyme or Reason," a trip to Laughland, at Waldron's Casino.

HOWARD ATHENEUM—The Speedway Girls were the lively artists to delight the patrons of the Howard yesterday. George H. Ward was the principal funmaker and Stella Morrisey was another favorite. Edith Lyons and Dorothy Dean pleased in their feature. The management offered a big vaudeville bill of six acts that gave satisfaction in good measure. The show is continuous.

ARLISS COMING IN NEW BARRIE PLAYLET

A new Barrie playlet, with that fine and always distinguished player, George Arliss, in the leading role is the interesting announcement that comes from the Hollis Street Theatre, where Mr. Arliss and his company will commence an engagement beginning Monday evening, March 10. Not only this, but the program consists of a quite remarkable double bill, as it includes besides the Barrie piece a revival of the brilliant Hubert Henry Davies comedy, "The Mollusc."

Plays That Remain

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—"The Better 'Ole" began its final fortnight at the Hollis Street Theatre yesterday. Bostonians have been most loyal to this attraction, and with the best reason in that it appeals with a sure touch of humor so straightforward and void of subtleties that it brooks no denial.

TREMONT THEATRE—"Polly with a Past" began the last two weeks of its engagement at the Tremont Theatre yesterday afternoon. This comedy production bears the hall mark of David Belasco, which fact to the initiated in the theatre means more than any other disclosure.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—This is the last week but one of the popular engagement of Leo Carrillo in "Lombardi, Ltd.," the refreshing comedy by Frederic and Fanny Hatton, which last night began the tenth week of its stay at the Plymouth Theatre.

COLONIAL THEATRE—Fred Stone in "Jack o' Lantern" began the tenth week of his engagement at the Colonial Theatre last evening. It is a touch-and-go case with this attraction, every week seeing only the Sunday blanks halting the succession of capacity audiences, and there is yet to be evident a sign of decrease in appeal on the part of the public.

COPLEY THEATRE—"Bunty Pulls the Strings" began its second week at the Copley Theatre last evening, its humorous scenes and incidents being thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. The play to follow is "Hobson's Choice," a drama by Harold Brighouse, presented for the first time in this country.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—Another prosperous week of "The Crowded Hour" was begun last evening at Selwyn's Park Square Theatre. The play is the joint work of Edgar Selwyn and Channing Pollock.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Little Simplicity" continues its popular way, with Walter Catlett and the Cameron Sisters at the Wilbur.

SHUBERT THEATRE—"Take It from Me," the lively musical farce headed by Vera Michelena, has won a large measure of popularity at the Shubert.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—"Hello, Alexander," the best show McIntyre and Heath ever had, continues to attract big crowds.

THREE VASSAR SENIORS FROM N. E. GET HONORS

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Vassar College seniors number twenty-eight this year. Among those who received honors were Misses Esther Annabell Furness and Ruth Kineman Furness of Manchester, N. H., and Lois Warner of Fall River, Mass.

KEITH'S BILL IS FULL OF GOOD ACTS

One of the best bills seen in weeks, the honors for which are shared by three headline acts, is to be seen at Keith's this week. Joe Jackson, the tramp comedian and his bicycle, who has made people all over the world laugh, is back again. Joe and his ludicrous makeup cause eight minutes of convulsed merriment all over the entire house. Following this act, Belle Baker, the little Jewish girl who has become a prime favorite with vaudeville theatregoers in this city, sang a few songs and some of her old successes with a medley of all the song hits she has made in the past few years.

The Avon Comedy Four hardly need an introduction to this city. They have a new act, "A Hungarian Rhapsody," which is full of funny lines and situations. They have abandoned some of their singing for a lot of comedy which makes a well-balanced performance.

Other acts on the bill, all of which deserve mention, were J. C. Nugent and Jule York in a one-act farce playlet, "The Meal Hound," which is full of bright comedy; Charley Conway & Co. with Sally Fields in "What's Your Alibi?"; Emma Haig and Lou Lockett in an exceptional miniature dance revue; Juliette Dika in songs; Wilfred DuBois, a really wonderful juggler, and the Howard animal circus.

JAZZ BAND AND WAR FILM AT TREMONT TEMPLE

A remarkable double triumph was scored last night at Tremont Temple. The U. S. Jazz Band, composed of twenty-five jackies, every one of them a musical genius, fairly lifted the big audience from its seats. They put a spirit and a verve into the jazz music that was a sort of a revelation, and the resulting enthusiasm rocked and rattled the great theatre as it has seldom shook before. The original program of the band was far too short to suit the audience, who demanded and received more and more.

The second triumph greeted "America Was Right," a convincing photoplay with a thrilling romance played upon the checkerboard of war. It is a novel film, because while it has not a single battle scene it brings the war closer home than anything else possibly could, except the letters of our own soldier boys.

30 Carloads of Grain Burn

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 25.—The Adams Brothers storehouse on Willow street was destroyed by fire, causing an estimated loss of $25,000. Thirty carloads of hay, grain and oats were burned.

WOMEN TO AID LABOR SAYS MRS. ASTOR

Arrives in New York With War-Crippled Husband, Capt. John Jacob Astor

New York, Feb. 25.—With part of his left leg gone, Captain John Jacob Astor of England, and Lady Violet Astor, who lost one husband in the war, and acquired another, arrived here today on their honeymoon, just two a half years delayed.

Captain and Lady Astor came on the Olympic, which also brought a large number of colored soldiers home, and the aristocratic pair danced on board steamer to music played by the negro war heroes.

"The colored soldiers sang and sang," Lady Astor related joyfully. "Yes, they played, too, and we danced. We danced almost every night."

Speaking of the large part women had played in the war, Captain Astor remarked that all women must be very tired. To this his bride replied:

"Maybe they are. But they are going to have a voice in what manner of reconstruction we are to have. The women are going to take a very real part in labor after this. They have the vote now and they use it."

Lady Astor was Lady Nairne-Minto, widow of Major Lord Charles Nairne, who fell at Messines Ridge in October, 1914. In August, 1916, she was married in London to Captain Astor, who is the youngest son of Baron Astor, who before his elevation to the peerage was William Waldorf Astor of New York.

The Astors will go to Palm Beach and other American resorts. This is the first time in many years that either of them has been in this country.

ARLINGTON PASTOR GETS CALL TO CALIFORNIA

The Rev. Frank Lincoln Masseck, pastor of the First Universalist Church in Arlington, has resigned, to take effect in April. He has accepted a call to Santa Paula, Cal., and will enter upon his new duties May 1. Mr. Masseck has preached in Arlington since 1909, coming here from Potsdam, N. Y.

N. Y. MEDICAL SOCIETY OPPOSES PROHIBITION

New York, Feb. 25.—The Medical Society of the County of New York, by a vote of 49 to 23, placed itself on record as opposing prohibition as "irrational, unscientific and in opposition to the accepted usages of all civilized nations." "Alcohol contributes to health and enjoyment of life if moderately used," declared Dr. Max Einhorn. "Prohibition is entirely against all our ideals of personal liberty." Dr. Daniel S. Dougherty, the society's secretary, exclaimed: "I can't sit here and hear all this buncombe! All these arguments—all this stuff about personal liberty and freedom—is damnable, simply damnable."

SLIGHT INCREASE IN BROOKLINE TAX RATE

Appropriations for the town of Brookline will this year amount to $2,576,216.27, according to the report of the selectmen on the annual warrant. A "moderate increase" in the tax rate is expected by the selectmen, according to the report.

SAYS MRS. ROCKEFELLER DOES SOLDIER'S WASHING

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25.—In a letter Lieutenant Paul Barnes writes from Neuwald, Germany, to his parents, that Mrs. Rockefeller is the name of "the lady who does our washing here." Mrs. Rockefeller declares she can prove she is a niece of "John D.," declares Lieutenant Barnes.

Hollywood, Calif. Sept., 26, 1918.

The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
Gentlemen:

After the use of a single bottle of your Herpicide, it was plainly noticeable that my hair had improved to a marked degree. In every possible way the health and vigor, and beautiful luster of my hair were improved to the extent that my friends commented on it. My observation of many artists on the stage and screen, particularly the stars in Paramount Pictures, has taught me the value of beautiful hair. This attribute no doubt aids in the securing of opportunities for many artists.

Cordially yours, Lila Lee

Father John's Medicine Builds Up the Body Without Use of Dangerous Drugs or Alcohol. A Doctor's Prescription, Heals Throat and Lungs

Absolute Truth of This Story Attested by Guarantee to Give $25,000.00 to Any Charitable Institution if Shown Otherwise.

Father John's Medicine is a physician's prescription.

Prescribed for the Rev. Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, Mass., by an eminent specialist in 1855.

Father John recommended this prescription to his parishioners and friends and in this way it became known as Father John's Medicine.

This story is true and we guarantee to give $25,000.00 to any charitable institution, if shown otherwise.

Father John's Medicine is recommended for coughs, colds, and throat troubles, and to make flesh and strength. Does not contain dangerous drugs or narcotics in any form.

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN

"Gets-It" Peels My Corns Off!

Any Corn or Callus Comes Off Peacefully, Painlessly. Never Fails.

It's almost a picnic to get rid of a corn or callus the "Gets-It" way. You spend 2 or 3 seconds putting on 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It," about as simple as putting on your hat. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wrappy" plasters, greasy ointments that rub off, blood-letting knives, and scissors that snip into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. Your "jumpy" corn shrinks, dies, loosens from the toe. You peel the corn painlessly from your toe in one complete piece. That's where the picnic comes in—you peel it off as you would a banana peel. Nothing else but "Gets-It" can do it. Get peaceful, common-sense "Gets-It."

Use "Gets-It," peel off corn this way.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

COLD GONE! HEAD AND NOSE CLEAR

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all grippe misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up!

Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.—Advertisement.

DID YOU EVER USE SLOAN'S?

Ask any man who ever had rheumatic aches that question

He'll tell you he's heard of it, uses it, wouldn't use anything else for any external pain, ache, muscle-stiffness, soreness, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, sprain, strain.

He'll tell you it penetrates without rubbing, bringing warm, glowing, quick relief. Clean, economical, certain of satisfactory results. All druggists have it—get a big bottle—today from yours. 30c, 60c, $1.20.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

WORK AGAINST FUSION OF TEUTONS

By DR. E. J. DILLON.

Special Cable to the Boston American and Philadelphia Public Ledger.

(Copyright in the United States and Canada by the Philadelphia Ledger Company. Copyright in Europe by the London Daily Telegraph.)

Paris, Feb. 25.—Among the fascinating mysteries with which grandiose enterprises like the congress of Vienna and the Paris conference are occasionally streaked are the maneuvers of the subterranean agencies which silently and secretly do the rough work of the fashioning problems for the plenipotentiaries. I am enabled to turn the flashlight upon certain of these unshunned recesses where the underground machinery is continuously operating and where finished products alone are deemed worthy of being displayed to the eyes of delegates.

The problem attacked is how to hinder the German republic from acquiring some eight million Austrian Teutons without doing violence to the sacred principles inscribed on the Entente banner. The entire French press, excepting the extreme Socialistic, clamors for measures to prevent the amalgamation.

TWO DIVERSE CURRENTS.

At the conference two currents are making themselves felt, the American, which proclaims Austria's right to shape its own destinies without let and hindrance from without, and the Continental European, which also recognizes this right, but strives to have it exercised conformably to its own interests by gentle pressure upon the voters.

The Austrian opinion as mirrored in the minds of the French politicians is divided between Socialists who desire union with Germany and the Christian Socialists, who at the bottom deprecate it, but are wavering because the Entente governments appear indifferent.

The practical problem therefore is to get the entente to impress upon the Austrian population the advisability of opposing the union, tooth and nail. The Socialists aim at incorporation in the German republic, which will provide them with the majority against the Austrian clericals, who would constitute a large majority if Austria stood alone, and will make them participate in the destinies of the Teuton race.

DISLIKE AMALGAMATION.

The Christian Socialists for contrary motives dislike the amalgamation also for the sentimental reason that they desire to keep Vienna alive and flourishing, but the Mayor of Vienna and the Christian Socialists lost courage when they ascertained that the allied powers were resigned to see all Germans compacted in one puissant state.

In order to pronounce the condemnation, the people voted Socialist all the more readily because the entente was supposed to approve the pan-German union. If the question of annexation were put and a plebiscite organized the verdict would be an emphatic negative, says the Austro-Hungarian Association, which ardently desires the co-operation of the entente.

To some, this co-operation may seem a vain desire, but the truth is the Austrians are already in close touch with allied representatives in Paris.

ICE SHORTAGE AFFECTS NEWPORT "LEMONADE"

Newport, R. I., Feb. 25.—Even a swig of lemonade is going to cost the rich cottagers down the avenue quite a bit of money next Summer, for no ice has been harvested, and report is current that the ice dealers hope to reap a big harvest in increased prices because of the shortage. Again, though the war is over, it looks as if high prices would continue the order of the day just so long as the public will stand for them.

YOUTHS ARRESTED IN ARLINGTON HOLDUP

Charged with attempting to rob Edward Kazzjian while he was walking along Winter street, Arlington, Francis McGovern, eighteen, of No. 55 Medford street, and Joseph F. Mulgery, twenty, of Russell street, were arrested in Somerville by Lieutenant Daniel Hooley and Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart. Both boys live in Somerville. Mulgery admitted, the police say, that he fired a shot from a revolver, while McGovern used a blackjack.

BOY KILLS SELF WITH REVOLVER IN PLAY

Holyoke, Feb. 25.—John Labonte, fifteen, of Lyman street, died today of a revolver wound in the head, self-inflicted while at play. With a group of other boys he was "doing movie stunts." Suddenly the boy placed the revolver to his temple, shouting, "Here's a boy who wants to die." He pulled the trigger and fell. The revolver had been given to one of Labonte's playmates by an older brother, who bought it a week ago. An investigation is being made.

SEIZE 350 GALLONS OF RAISIN WINE IN MAINE

Portland, Me., Feb. 25.—Over 350 gallons of raisin wine were seized by deputy sheriffs during a raid upon the basement of a grocery store at No. 265 Fore street. The proprietor was not at home at the time, but his wife declared that it was made for family consumption. The sheriffs failed to be convinced, so they took the wine and much paraphernalia used in making it.

BURNED FILLING AUTO TANK BY LANTERN LIGHT

Lexington, Feb. 25.—John Ticel of Waltham street will never again fill the gasoline tank of his automobile truck by the light of a lantern. He attempted this in his garage. The gasoline fumes ignited, scorching Ticel and doing slight damage to the truck, before he could extinguish the blaze.

REVEAL PLOT TO KILL BRITISH OFFICERS

Bottled Soda Containing Cyanide, Shipped to New Zealand, Slays Two

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—As a result of a military investigation now underway at Wellington, N. Z., army officials believe that a plot to kill scores of British army officers aboard New Zealand troopships has been revealed. Officials claim that the troopships were supplied with bottled soda which, it has been found, contained cyanide of potassium.

The investigation was made as a result of the death of Dr. Charles Grimm, ship's surgeon of the steamer Moana, and Miss Helen Isbister, a passenger, when the vessel was nearing Wellington on its last trip. These two deaths, it is held, prevented the wholesale poisoning of the British army officers as none of the soda was used following the sudden death of the physician and the passenger. Military authorities conducting the investigation are inclined to the belief that they have uncovered the activities of enemy agents or I. W. W. emissaries in the Wellington factory.

The Moana arrived at this port yesterday and a report of the deaths was made by the captain to officials of the ship's company.

ITALIAN CIVIC LEAGUE PLAN DANCING PARTY

Plans are about complete for the first Americanization dancing party of the Catholic Italian Civic League, West End, to be held in Roughan Hall, City square, Charlestown, on Thursday evening. There will be a reception from 8 until 9 o'clock, during which many prominent men and women will serve as patrons, representing the Liberty Loan campaign committee, the Women's Municipal League, the School Department, the League of Catholic Women of Boston, and several other educational and civic bodies.

The committee of arrangements consists of the senior members of the league, who are conducting a publicity and fund campaign to further their work of Americanization, civic virtue and charity on patriotic lines.

Attorneys Divorced, But Continue Law Partnership

Chicago, Feb. 25. — The marriage partnership of Johanna H. Penwell and Leroy V. Penwell was dissolved yesterday by a decree of divorce, but their partnership as lawyers will continue.

They appeared before Judge Hopkins, representing themselves.

Said Mrs. Penwell: "We practice law together at No. 69 West Washington street. We were married November 23, 1909. On February 7 I took up the telephone, and on a crossed wire heard my husband make an appointment with a girl for Friday night.

"Then I made an appointment with a friend. We saw my husband enter a taxi with a girl. We followed them to a hotel."

NEWTON AUTOIST HELD ON DRINKING CHARGE

Charles M. Weldon, thirty-five years old, of No. 23 Ricker road, Newton, was arrested on a charge of operating a machine while under the influence of liquor. His arrest followed a smashup, in which a man and two women were slightly hurt. Their machine was badly damaged.

PROPOSES TEMPORARY ARMY OF 538,498 MEN

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Senate sub-committee has inserted in the billion dollar army appropriation measure, provisions for a temporary army of 538,498 officers and men after July 1. This is the recommendation of the War Department.

Touch Toes Fifty Times

Fine exercise! Keeps skin clear and complexion rosy by forcing the delayed food, poisons and waste from the stomach, liver and bowels. Splendid!

But most people take their exercise in an easy chair. They become headachy, bilious, sallow, dyspeptic, constipated. Such folks must take Cascarets occasionally. No other cathartic or laxative "works" like harmless Cascarets. They act on the bile clogged liver and constipated bowels gently—no inconvenience. Cascarets cost only 10 cents a box.

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight!

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

PERSONNEL CHANGED.

"You are probably aware that the personnel of the 26th Division has changed to a great extent since its departure for France, many replacements from other sections of the country having been fed into it to replace shrinkage in its original numbers. In fact, between May 1 and November 11, 1918, the 26th Division received 14,411 replacements, the greater part of which presumably came from other States than those of New England.

"At the same time the desire of the people of Massachusetts and New England to entertain the officers and men of the 26th Division, and to see them parade, is so thoroughly appreciated that I am this date (February 15) sending a cablegram to France with the object of achieving these ends. The request is being sent that strenuous efforts be made to so arrange the embarkation of the division, that all units of the division in which the majority of the men came from New England may be assigned to vessels, which, clearing at about the same time, can be routed to Boston.

"Of course, certain units in which the majority of the men come from other sections of the country may have to be assigned to other ports of debarkation, but the practical result should be that the majority of the division will debark at Boston, and will be available for a parade.

MUST GO TO CAMP.

"In order that certain delays which are bound to occur upon the arrival of the troops at the port may be understood in advance, and the minds of the people prepared, it seems the part of wisdom to inform you that the elements arriving at Boston will arrive on different ships at different times, though the time of arrival between the first and last ship will be reduced to the minimum.

"The parts of the division from the different ships will have to go to Camp Devens for the necessary disinfection, and possibly such quarantine as may be demanded by existing conditions, upon arrival. There the different fractions of the command will have to be assembled. The division will then be brought to Boston and after the parade returned to Camp Devens for demobilization.

"This of course will delay the discharge of the men for a certain period, but if the reasons as herein explained are known by all in advance, the arrangements will probably be satisfactory to all concerned. Assuring you that the War Department will do everything in its power to grant the patriotic desires of the people of Massachusetts, I am,

"Cordially yours,
(Signed) "NEWTON D. BAKER
"Secretary of War."

WOMAN HELD FOR DEATH OF ELEVEN YEARS AGO

Manistee, Mich., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Stanislawa Lypchinski is held today on a warrant charging her with the murder in the first degree in connection with the death eleven years ago of Sister Superior Mary Johns, who disappeared mysteriously from the convent at Isadore near Traverse City, and whose body is believed to have been found last week. A warrant also has been issued for the arrest of Rev. Father Andrew Bieniowski, charging him with being accessory to the crime.

CLEMENCEAU'S WOUND NOW HEALING RAPIDLY

Paris, Feb. 25.—Premier Clemenceau's wound is healing rapidly. The attending physicians are having difficulty in preventing the aged statesman from walking. M. Clemenceau declares that he is "all right," and insists upon attending the theatre. The Premier believes he will assume his full burden of peace work by Thursday.

WILL ASK PRESIDENT TO REVIEW 27TH DIVISION

New York, Feb. 25.—Chairman John J. Delaney of the Brooklyn Victory Celebration Committee is going to Washington tonight to invite President Wilson to review a parade of the 27th Division in Brooklyn when the troops arrive home within the next few weeks. Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker also will be invited.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Advertisement.

SUFFRAGETTES REFUSE TO PAY $5 FINES

been ready to fight in our behalf and it was hours even before we could find out where the hearing was going to take place.

DEMAND FAIR PLAY.

"The women are not only being told in court what alternative they have if they appeal or if they refuse to pay fines."

Mrs. Jessica Henderson and Wilma Henderson were called together. Mrs. Henderson is the mother of Wilma. Both mother and daughter refused to plead to the charge or make any statements. Just before court adjourned, however, Mrs. Henderson turned to a court officer and told him that, as her daughter was under age she did not come within the jurisdiction of that court but rather came under juvenile jurisdiction.

Mrs. Edith S. Turner of Allston, Dorothy Pratt of Roxbury, and Rose Lewis of New York City all pleaded not guilty, but each paid a fine of $5.

Nineteen of the women had spent the night in cells in the House of Detention. When their cases were called in court today a court officer reported that they refused absolutely to answer to the charge.

Further, they sent word that they refused to appear in court. If the court wanted them, they asserted, it would have to send court officers to the city prison and take them bodily to the courtroom.

REFUSE TO ANSWER NAMES.

Justice Bolster ignored the odd situation brought about by their refusal and ordered that the trial proceed.

The name of Wilma Henderson, eighteen, of No. 1808 Beacon street, was the first called. It was then the trouble started. A court officer told Justice Holster the suffragists would not answer to their names when he went after them where they were assembled in the city prison.

"If you can pick any of them out," he added, "I'll go get her and bring her here if I have to carry her in on a stretcher."

About this time a pale woman of slight build, with every evidence of refinement and wearing a sash of yellow and purple, the official colors of the National Woman's Party, walked into the courtroom.

"Are you Wilma Henderson?" asked the clerk of the court.

"I'm not Wilma Henderson," she replied. "But we refuse to give our names. We demand a public hearing."

"Are you guilty or not guilty of the charge of sauntering or loitering as charged?" asked the clerk.

DEMAND PUBLIC HEARING.

"Not guilty," she said. "We demand a public hearing. We refuse to be railroaded."

It developed later that she was Mrs. Lois Warren Shaw, wife of a prominent Manchester, N. H., business man.

She said she would appear and took the witness stand to answer to a Jane Doe warrant ordered by Justice Holster.

This was in answer to the decision of the court made earlier in the day that the suffragists would not be tried in open court, but in secret session or as the courts put it, "in chambers."

Justice Bolster ignored the demand and ordered the trial to proceed.

Captain Richard Fitzgerald of the Joy street station, who was in charge of the squad of police who arrested the suffragists, was called as the first witness. He told of the women being assembled on the sidewalk in front of the State House. He said they were notified that they had loitered longer than the law allowed and that if they did not move on he would be compelled to arrest them. The women refused to move on and patrol wagons were called. The women were bundled off to the police stations.

MUST BE HEARD.

Chief Justice Bolster turned to the woman and asked her if she had stories of the patrolmen and Captain Fitzgerald.

"We want a public hearing," she reiterated. "We want to be brought in here together to answer to any charges. That is our plan and we intend to stick to it."

The next witness was James Beatty, an attache of Sergeant-at-Arms Pedrick's office at the State House. He told of the incidents leading to the suffragists' arrest.

Meanwhile crowds of ardent, sympathizing suffragists swarmed outside the court room in the corridors seeking admittance. They struggled and pushed and insisted on being admitted. They gave the two police officers at the door all they could do to handle them.

Justice Bolster fined Mrs. Shaw $5. She was given a chance to appeal. She did not know what an appeal meant. Finally, when her rights were explained to her, she assented and was held for further hearing in the Superior Court session of March 2.

MERE MAN-MADE LAW.

Fannie Fowler of No. 15 Davis avenue, Brookline, was the next name called. Another woman took the witness stand.

"I am not Francis Fowler," she said.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the clerk.

"I ask you first what is my name?" the woman demanded of the clerk.

"It's of no consequence," said Justice Bolster. "We'll proceed on the Jane Doe warrant."

"If I disobeyed any law," spoke up the woman, "it was because I had no hand in the making of sucha law. If I were a citizen, I would never have aided in the making of such a law."

She was fined five dollars.

When told of her right to appeal, she at first refused.

"I'd rather go to jail than pay this fine," she told the court. Later, she changed her mind and said that "for the sake of her children," she would pay the fine imposed.

The third woman called on a Jane Doe warrant refused to give her name. It developed that she was Miss Elsie Hill, daughter of the late Congressman Hill of Norwalk, Conn. She had been arrested for speaking on the Parkman Bandstand on the Common without a permit from the Mayor's office.

DENOUNCES JAIL CONDITIONS.

When asked if she was guilty she started to tell the judge some of the conditions she had seen in the House of Correction where she had spent the night.

"You ought to go down into that jail, judge," she said, "and see the conditions I saw there last night. You ought to see, judge, the way we were treated."

NATIONAL COMMISSION FLAYS RED SOX AND CUB PLAYERS

By NICK FLATLEY.

THOSE who remember the famous players' strike of last Fall's World's Series—and who doesn't?—will be glad to know just what the august National Commish thought of the threatened walkout, and why it hasn't awarded any emblems to the athletes who were concerned.

The following, which appears in the annual report of the Commish, will tell the whole world just why things are. It doesn't mention at all the promise made by Ban Johnson to Harry Hooper that the players would not suffer a bit if they called it off and went out on the field. It doesn't mention a lot of other things, either.

But there's consolation in the fact that there never could be such another meeting—we refer to a couple of the Commission members—after July 1 of this year unless Congress decides it's unconstitutional.

It's interesting, too, to wonder whether or not Bush, Schang and Strunk will contribute their $100 fines or forever get their baseball money in the Upland League or something like that. In the good old days the club would have paid the fines and the matter would have been hushed up. But times have changed so much that even heroes do not get much consideration when they hold out.

Whole Concern Financial Says Altruistic Commish

Following is the illustrious Commish's verdict on the whole thing:

"No. 1,493. To the Members of the Contesting Teams in the 1918 World's Series:

"As a result of the earnest efforts of the league executives and club presidents of each major league, and the co-operation of the commission after the issuance of the work-or-fight order by the Secretary of War, official permission was obtained for the continuance of the championship season until September 1 thereby enabling all American and National League players to obtain an additional month's salary under their respective contracts.

"On the application of the Commission later on, the Secretary of War assented to the playing of the world's series, from which the players of the contesting and three other first division teams of each major league derived a revenue of $69,529.80.

"Section 2 of the rules and regulations for the world's series provides that appropriate mementos, to be selected and paid for by the Commission, should be presented to the players of the victorious team of each year.

"The Commission has unanimously decided that the mutinous and mercenary action of the contesting players in the 1918 series demonstrates that the members of the championship team are unworthy of a world's series emblem, and none will be presented to them.

"Their threat to strike in disregard of their duties to patrons and the nation-wide interest in the games was, it is understood, censured by prominent government officials at Washington, who declared that despite the extension granted for the world's series the squabble of the players over the receipts and the engagement by some of the Boston players in barnstorming has convinced the administration that their whole concern is financial, and that favors to them only encouraged slackers.

"Players Schang, Strunk and Bush, who violated Rule 9 of the commission, by playing in exhibition games after the world's championship was decided, are hereby fined $100 each, which must be paid before they become eligible to play with a national agreement club."

Shaver O'Brien to Work At Armory Meeting

SHAVER O'BRIEN, South Boston battler, who looks like a champion every now and then, has been injected into the Armory card this evening, thereby giving it a bit of local color. Shaver can fight when he feels that way. This P. M. he goes against Johnny Clinton, the New Yorker, who was to have been opposed by Young Strona.

Ringside's Selections

Young Chaney to beat Young Solzberg.

Willie Coogan to beat Poppey Leahy.

Johnny Clinton to beat Shaver O'Brien.

Paul Doyle to beat Eddie Fitzsimmons.

To be sure, the main bout, with the efficient Paul Doyle and the more or less unknown Eddie Fitzsimmons, is still on, as is the Coogan-Leahy Peninsular championship and the Chaney-Solzberg bout. The whole shapes up like an evening full of fight.

There is likely to be another cancellation this night also up in Manchester. There Chick Hayes was billed to meet Al Shubert. But Chick split his forehead so badly in Portland Saturday that he's hardly likely to work. He will go to the ring and submit to an examination. In case the medico turns him down, which looks like a sure bet, Frank Toronto will substitute.

Frank, who has been out of the game for a year or more, is really a good featherweight, and will give Shubert and the Manchester fans twelve rounds of real action. Hayes, who had the better of Brown until he was injured Saturday, has been offered a return bout at the Portland club.

McAtee on Again At St. Joseph's Show.

BARNEY McAtee, sensational amateur midget, who flattened three opponents on his first appearance in any ring, will be the headliner at the simon pure show the St. Joseph's Society is to run tomorrow night at the Commercial Club headquarters. Barney looks like one of the classiest watch-charm fighters that has loomed on the horizon for a long long time. He gets a real test, however, being stacked against Freddie Saterelli, the youth who recently stopped the champion of the bantam tribe.

There will also be another special quarrel, Freddie Madden taking on Henry Regan at 120 pounds. In addition, the amateurs will box in the 108, 115, 135 and 135-pound classes.

TWO AND THREE
PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER
WITH "BUGS" BAER..

MR. WOODY, the international traveling man, is again visiting his Western trade with a full line of Presidential samples. He found his Eastern territory rather overstocked with points, but managed to place a nice order for fourteen in Versailles.

Mr. Woody sold a neat bunch of heavy woolen Winter diplomacy while abroad and has returned to the home factory to look over some light Spring statesmanship.

He is one of the most progressive salesmen we ever had, in spite of the heavy expense account he turns in after each trip. Many a traveling salesman has been fired for less than hiring a special train, but Woody manages to get away with it. He also rented a whole fleet to ride him over to Europe.

However, he never pads his expenses with meals. His customers are always slipping him free eats.

After a short stay in the home office Mr. Woody will again hit the road with a neat but not gaudy line of bevel-edged democratic goods in all the popular shades of red, white and blue.

His work has been so good in the Eastern territory that we are thinking of pulling in the rest of the 3,000,000 salesmen who are canvassing that district and go back to the old mail-order business.

NO Henley regatta this year. England rules all the waves except the kind made by an eight-oared shell.

WITH the armistice signed for everything but eight-ounce mittens, it looks like a tall year for the boys with the thick ears. With the late, lamented Willie Ritche playing hookey from the second-hand department long enough to hang Leonard for a row of Chinese joss houses; with Nevada moving the State boundary line back to slip Jack Dempsey enough room to swing his right, and with Johnny Kilbane having dumbbells and a punching bag put in his Tuesday limousine, it looks as if boxing will soon be working three eight-hour shifts.

THE world had to scuffle four years to prevent all legal documents starting "In this year of our Kaiser, 1919," and the rest of that oil. But it is all over, like last Summer's freckles, and this ain't the Kaiser's year. His army is scattered like saloons in Georgia, and all his gray gorillas are back home beating their wives and children in peace. The Royal Imperial navy is going to be cut up into tomato cans and other forms of backyard jewelry. This is anybody's year but Billhelm's, and it looks as if athletics were going to grab their share of the calendar.

THIS year will be the thickest, oiliest sporting year of all. One day of sunshine and a few minutes of picking bleacher splinters out of the trousers is going to make the baseball bug forget all the horrors of warfare. The old gravy is just going to be oozing off the baseball receipts, boxing is going to be smothered in syrup and there will be four layers of the old sugar on racing and college athletics. In the old forgive-others-their trespasses spirit, the fans are liable to feel unusually genial and even go to see a wrestling match. You never can tell. No man is responsible for what he does in later years if a careless nurse drops him out of his cradle on his head when he's about three months old.

BASEBALL NEWS AND GOSSIP

Heinie Schreiber, infield sensation of the little ol' New England in 1917, has signed with the Braves. Manager Stallings had him for a few minutes in the windup of the '17 grind. Schreiber enlisted in the big show early and rose to a top sergeant. Heinie recently got his discharge papers, so will make the training trip.

Duffy Lewis and Walter Pipp have signed their Yankee contracts. That's four regulars Miller Huggins has landed, Ping Bodie and Benny Ruel, crack young windpadist, having attached their J. Hancocks to documents a fortnight ago.

Jack (Dots) Miller, former infielder of the Cardinals, remains on the job at a French seaport. He writes that he hopes to be back for the championship opening and, naturally, Branch Rickey says an attractive contract awaits him.

It is Expert Hugh Fullerton's forecast that I. E. (Sy) Sanborn, veteran, ditto well liked, Chicago baseball writer, is as good as lined up on the new National Commission. If it's to be a three-man affair Fullerton looks for Harvey Woodruff, sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune and Sanborn's superior officer, to likewise gain a place. Sanborn is out of this section, being a native-born New Englander, and started his hectic journalistic career going at Springfield.

Bill Brennan, the former National and Federal League umpire, has been hired to umpire the Spring series which the Giants and Red Sox will play in the South next April. It will be Bill's third Spring trip with the Giants, as he umpired the 1917 Giant-Tiger series and also officiated in the games played between the Giants and Cleveland Indians last season.

The Philadelphia Athletics of the American League today announced that a series of games have been arranged with the University of Pennsylvania early next April. As the Athletics will do their training at home this Spring a number of midweek practice games have been arranged with the Red and Blue. Later the Athletics will play a Spring series with the Phillies.

Jack Coombs, manager of the Phillies, said that the club had received a number of offers to make a trade in which George Whitted, the Quaker City left fielder, would be involved, but that the Philadelphia club absolutely refused to part with Whitted.

KILONIS AND YOKEL IN FEATURE MAT GO

John Kilonis, the Greek whirlwind and Mike Yokel, the world's middleweight champion, meet in the feature mat bout at the Grand Opera House on Thursday night.

Kilonis will use the whirlwind tactics that have brought him to the front rank of middleweights, while Yokel will continue along the smooth-moving lines that have proven so efficient for him in the past.

Kilonis showed in his match with Gardner that if he keeps his head and sticks within the rules he has at least a 50-50 chance with any man living of his weight.

MILLROSE GAMES BOUND TO BE BEST EVER

New York, Feb. 25.—The Millrose games, bigger and gayer than ever, will be decided tonight in Madison Square Garden, and the indications are a tremendous throng of athletic lovers will be on hand. What's more, some new indoor records are expected to be hung up.

The Rodman Wanamaker mile and a half special will signalize the third and perhaps final effort of Joie Ray of the Illinois A. C. to win permanent possession of the big silver cup for which he has already scored two notable victories—one over the late Lieutenant Johnny Overton, in which race he hung up a new American record for the distance.

The "600" has tempted Ted Meredith to renounce his intention temporarily of retiring from competition. It will be his first appearance in a race since his return from abroad, and his only reason for competing is that he wants to gain permanent possession of the valuable Post trophy, on which he has two legs.

The rest of the selected field against him is the fastest in the country—Tom Campbell of the University of Chicago, new national half-mile champion; Dave Caldwell of the Boston A. A., who has one leg on the cup and is going strong, as his victory in the Curley thousand at Boston proved; Marvin Gustafson of the University of Pennsylvania, national 600-yard champion, and Homer Baker, who made a real comeback earlier this season.

The 70-yard low and high hurdles (scratch) will bring together the greatest field of timber-toppers which has been seen indoors for many years.

The events will mark the reappearance indoors of Lieutenant Bob Simpson of the University of Missouri, who made a special trip all the way from Presidio, San Francisco, for the games.

Simpson is the world's record-holder for the 120-yard high hurdles outdoors, and will endeavor to break the present indoor records for the 70-yard high and low hurdles races (five hurdles).

B. C. AND TUFTS NINES WILL CALL ON CADETS

West Point, N. Y., Feb. 25.—West Point's baseball schedule is out. The Cadets will play twenty-one games, all of them at home. Boston College calls April 5, Tufts, April 19; Williams, May 10; Holy Cross, May 21, and Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, May 24.

HARVARD TANK SQUAD READY FOR SPLASH NO. 1

Harvard opens its varsity swimming season tomorrow afternoon, opposing Worcester Academy in the latter's tank. The Crimson entries will include Captain Gardner Tilton, Guerdon Worcester, Fred Stanahan and Charley Masters.

New Brunswick, Feb. 25.—Frank B. Kelley of Stamford, Ct., has been elected captain of the Rutgers football team for next Fall.

Tech Field Day April 18.

Tech's sophomores and freshmen will meet in their annual field day clash April 18, the Athletic Association announced today.

Basketball News Notes

The Roxbury Boys' Club second team is out with a defi to the Cambridge Social Union, Norfolk A. C., St. Mary's Midgets, Thorndike Juniors, Hunneman A. C., and all other fast 90-100-pound fives. Manager William G. Reardon, No. 298 Roxbury street, Roxbury.

The crack Brophy five has signed to play the Cohasset Town team in St. Mary's Hall, Cambridgeport, next Monday night. Red Kenney of Franklin and Jim Crowley of the old East Bostons have been added to the Brophys' line-up.

FRISCO SCRIBES POKE FUN AT HON. BENNY

By TAD.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Local fistic scribes are having a lot of fun with Benny Leonard. One of them asks in his paper: "How does Leonard compare with Joe Gans? Answer. He doesn't."

They name a number of old-timers who could have licked the champion. They've got everyone in the world classed above him. Even Ikey Goff is looked upon by some as an even money shot.

It's a tough thing when a champ runs a bum race. The crowd is with the under dog at all times and at all places.

Willie Ritchie is looked upon as a hero. Had Ritchie been champ and Leonard the under dog, and had Ritchie been as badly off at the close of the bout as he was last Friday night, what a boost they'd have handed Benny! As it was, they expected the champion to stop Ritchie, and he failed miserably.

Leonard says that he couldn't get going. He says that his feet refused to work. Charley Leonard says that Benny was too fine. That he was tuned up for a long bout and didn't even warm up. Had Benny boxed three rounds in his dressing-room, as Ritchie did, he might have shown to better advantage.

A return match wouldn't draw any more here than a battle between Jack Dempsey and the Kaiser. The joint is daffy over it, Leonard is daffy over it, and Gibson is frothing at the mouth.

ARLINGTON BOAT CLUB PUTS ON SPICY SMOKER

The Arlington Boat Club holds its first smoker of the Winter session Thursday night. Athletic events, including boxing and wrestling, will feature the program. The club holds its annual election in mid-April and George M. Brock has been appointed chairman of the nomination committee.

DUFFY TO LOOK OVER HARVARD BALL SQUAD

Candidates for the Harvard varsity and freshman teams will report tomorrow afternoon in the baseball cage on Soldiers Field. The upper classmen will meet Coach Hugh Duffy at 2:30 o'clock and the freshmen will congregate at 4.

Duffy expresses himself immensely pleased with the way varsity's battery candidates are showing up. Felton, husky pitcher, is displaying great form.

Felton was put out of baseball by appendicitis in his sophomore year, but is now coming along fast. Another trim-looking pitcher is Bullard, who quit rowing for baseball.

Willard McLeod is doing well behind the bat, but may shift to the outfield when outdoor work gets under way.

Austin Blair, 1921 backstop, is working like a big leaguer, but needs outside work to determine his real ability. He was mighty handy with the bat as a freshman last Spring. He hit for over .400.

BOXING NEWS AND GOSSIP

Charley Parker is not a bit cast down over his defeat by Phinney Boyle and has signed up for a return bout with the Lowell battler at the Armory A. A. on March 18. The South End boy is training hard for his outtle with Harry Carlson, which will be staged at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday night.

* * *

Here's the secret of that four-round victory by Willie Ritchie over Benny Leonard on the coast. Benny is out for revenge and wants to meet the former title holder again. Watch Benny go when he gets in on that record gate.

* * *

Tommy Robson and Jack Britton will not meet tomorrow night at Akron. The latter claims the Malden boy is too heavy.

* * *

Weymouth is boasting of a new champ in Hugh Ramsey, who says he will meet any amateur in the country at 125 pounds. Ramsey, who is under the management of Jack Bentley, is anxious to meet Willie Corbett in a special match at any of the amateur shows. He can be reached by phone at 183-M Weymouth.

* * *

George Robinson, the colored boxer of Cambridge, who has been showing so well lately, is finding it hard to get work. The boys in his class are digging up all kinds of alibis for dodging, but the latest comes from a club manager up North who declared that there was nothing in his permit to allow colored boxers to show. His battler has probably looked up Robinson's recent record.

Wild rumors from down Beachmont way say that Frankie Mack is going to hurl his bennie into the roped arena again and that a recent challenge which he issued has been taken up by Walter Butler, his rival townie.

TECH'S BIG FOUR RACES AT MILLROSE A. A. MEET

Tech has sent a crackerjack relay quartet over to the Millrose Games, at New York, tonight. Spitz, Rollins, Bawden and Bardes form the team and Coach Kanaly is confident his flyers will give a good account of themselves. Tech's relay races Dartmouth at the B. A. A. meet Saturday night.

HARVARD SPORT SOLONS ARE TO MEET TONIGHT

Harvard's athletic committee gets toegther tonight. Professor Merriman will make known to his conferees the result of the triangular conference at New York last week. Some insight into Harvard's football schedule for next Fall may be forthcoming after the meeting.

ALUMNI FIVES BATTLE ON FLOOR IN WINTHROP

The alumni basketball teams of Winthrop High and Revere High, arch rivals on the court, clash at Centre Hall, Winthrop, tomorrow night. Their respective rooters can be relied upon turning out in full force.

RABBIT AND HANK WRITE GRANT; 'GILL' SIGNS

By H. W. LANIGAN.

President George Washington Grant of the Braves, who remains in the Hub, has just heard from Rabbit Maranville and the cyclonic little shortstop and great Boston favorite states he is confident he will be out of the navy in time to cut in on the two matinees with the Dodgers Patriots' Day.

Maranville remains aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania and at present is down in Cuba. He assures Mr. Grant he will be here in time for the championship opening, though he fears he must miss the training jaunt.

Magnate Grant has also heard from Hankus Gowdy. Hero Hankus is with the Army of Occupation in Germany, and writes that he will be the happiest gent over there when he gets his discharge.

"I am sure anxious to get back home and be with the Braves to open the season," writes Hankus. "Let me remind you I have served nearly two years in the army, and with a shock division, and I can assure you life for us has not been very pleasant.

"We were in all the big doings, such as Champagne, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Verdun and the Argonne Forest. We have been over here fifteen months, and I cannot explain how happy I would be to get back to America.

"If I do not get back this season it will mean three years' work at least. I may add I am glad I enlisted and served my country, and now I trust the government will reward me by giving me a chance to earn a living once more.

"When I get orders to be sent back home I won't stop in Paris or London, but will hike right back to the good old U. S. A."

President H. H. Frazee of the Red Sox sends word to the American from New York that he is in receipt of Frank Gilhooley's signed contract. Little Gill is the former Yankee outfielder, who was tossed in along with Ray Caldwell, Al Walters and Southpaw Love when the big swap for Duffy Lewis, Ernie Shore and Dutch Leonard was made.

Gilhooley made several spectacular flashes the several seasons he was a member of the New York troupe. At times he hit fairly well; he generally fielded niftily and, ever since he started as a big leaguer under Roger Bresnahan at St. Louis, has been rated with the game's fast boys.

BY a curious old law dating back to 1779 all the grapes left on the vines after the harvest at Beziers, France, go to the poor. If a police officer decided to enforce the law rigidly the owner of the vineyard could at once be haled into court should he attempt to pick the culls.

Secret Life and Loves of the Ex-Czarina

PART XV.—Continued

I KNEW he was a great favorite with the Empress, but the reason why he should come from Russia to see her was certainly curious.

Alex granted him audience eagerly, and they sat for a full hour together with closed doors. The only other person present was the Kaiser himself.

At the time I was unaware that the elegant Colonel, who had for some years been stationed at Kovno, near the frontier, had been acting for a long time as a spy o Germany, in collusion with an assistant of the Russian military agent in Paris. I did not know that the motive of the Empress' friendship with this officer—who had recently been appointed by Soukhomlinoff, the minister of war, as his right-hand man, and thus had opened to him the secrets of all our military administration—was that he, like herself, was working for Germany and not for Russia. I confess I never dreamed that the Colonel's wife, who was a stout German, was directly implicated in her husband's disgraceful transactions.

Invited to Dinner

This traitor was, on the evening of his arrival, invited to the Imperial dinner table, where the Kaiser behaved towards him just as generously as to the other traitors who had preceded him.

What I saw and heard struck me as peculiar, though I must say I never dreamed of the depth of the infamy of Miassoyedoff and Soukhomlinoff.

No mention was made at table of politics or of the great world-plot in progress. The Kaiser did not deride Great Britain—a language which, at heart, he detests, and will not allow to be spoken in his presence. The truth was being cunningly concealed, and of the entourage only Anna Vyrubova knew the real facts of what was in progress.

Alix, during the next day, was constantly with the colonel, walking with him in the forest or chatting with him in her own private apartment. It surprised me greatly to see the intimate terms upon which this War Minister's assistant was with the Kaiser himself as well as with Alix. Now, however, I know that at these secret conferences the downfall of Russia was being further arranged. I see the reason of the traitor Miassoyedoff's constant chats with Von Wedell, and the motive of the Emperor William's behavior towards him.

When he had left I remarked to Alix while we were motoring together in the forest to meet the hunting party on their return:

"It was surely most unfortunate that a year ago the Vetchernee Vremia should have made those charges against Colonel Miassoyedoff."

"It was an abominable libel upon one of our most loyal Russians," declared Alix quickly. "Do you know how the scandal ended?"

I replied in the negative.

"Well," the Emperor said, "Miassoyedoff met the editor, Boris Souvorine, at a race meeting and knocked his hat off. A duel ensued, and our friend the colonel was declared victor."

Allegations Supported

Only an hour before had I recollected the article in question, and how M. Gregchkoff, a most influential member of the Duma, had supported Souvorine's allegations, and also how General Soukhomlinoff had silenced everyone by his staunch support of his friend the colonel.

In common with all Russians, I had regarded General Soukhomlinoff as a fine, patriotic Russian, and an excellent administrator of the war department. He had the confidence of Nicholas, and none dreamed that the world was on the verge of war, or that Prussia had her plans perfected in order to seize upon any little international incident for excuse.

I must say that the Czarina's conduct was both subtle and amazing. Over her the dirty monk Rasputin, whose fingers women of Petrograd society actually licked after he had picked out pieces of meat from his plate—a state of things that I would never have credited had I not witnessed it with my own eyes—had more than ever cast his extraordinary spell. Crystal-gazing, table rapping, and "spooky" doings generally were practiced in secret every day at court. The Czar consulted the spirits of his dead ancestors upon every occasion possible, and the declarations of those ghostly visitants were always those of persons in the pay of Potsdam.

Rasputin's memory is hated in Russia, and will ever be, but that of Miassoyedoff should be execrated until the world's end. To him was due the carrying out of the ingenious plot formed by the Kaiser against Russia primarily, and also against the world.

The trial of this traitor, who was received so affectionately by the Kaiser, and who was defended so strongly by Alix and by the pro-German War Minister of Russia, revealed many astounding things. On his arrest there was found in his private safe the sum of half a million marks in German gold, and in his possession were certain papers which exposed a most astounding system of betrayal of the Russian military plans.

I recollect well a most dramatic hour. We were at Tsarkoe-Selo a few months after war had been declared. Alexandra Feodorovna had had herself trained as a sister of mercy and was playing at being a most humble hospital nurse, while the hospital labors of her daughters provoked admiration everywhere. Even the wife of General Soukhomlinoff had established a great depot on behalf of the wounded, and worked hard—in pretence, of course—on behalf of the poor fellows.

Everything was done to throw dust into the eyes of not only Russia, but those of her allies.

One day Alix opened a note that a valet handed her from the Emperor, read it, and turned pale.

"What can this mean, Zeneide?" she gasped as soon as the man had left the room. "The trial of Miassoyedoff has just ended. He is to be hanged, and his wife deported to Germany."

"Because he was a spy," I remarked coldly.

"Yes," she said hoarsely. "He was a fool to be found out, and therefore he must pay the penalty. He attempted too much—and perhaps he knew too much! One never knows. Go to the telephone. I must speak with the Father. He will give us good advice."

Rasputin was, I found, in his private apartments in the farther wing of the palace, and on informing him he hastened to us.

"Oh, lady," he said in my presence in his deep, impressive voice, "do not distress thyself. The common people who attempt to rule Russia are but the servants of Satan, and they work his will. Judges may condemn our dear brother Miassoyedoff, but in his innocence he will go to his death with a clear conscience and with a stout heart."

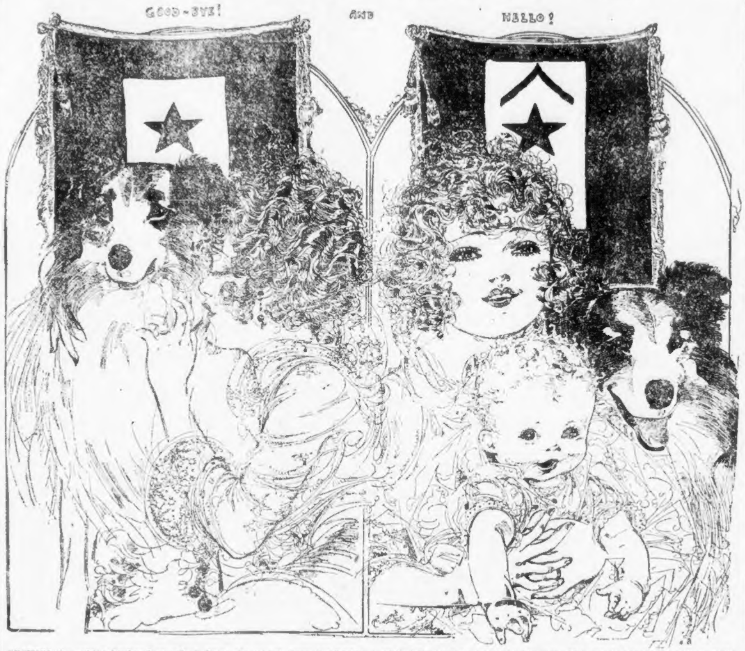
The Window in HIS House

By NELL BRINKLEY

Copyright, 1919, by International Feature Service, Inc.



GOOD-BYE!
AND HELLO!

WHEN the soldier-husband marched down the street from his house with a thought in his head that he tried to forget—"maybe I'm looking at my window for the last time"—and couldn't seem to, completely—when, marching away, he turned his head over his shoulder and was thankful to leave the girl that was his IN their home safe and warm, even if she did have the heart-ache, instead of where some other fellow's less wise little woman insisted on being—on a cold dock in the rain maybe with the tears on her cheeks and the long trip home to make alone, and it would take a letter six weeks to cross over to France and blot out the lonely image of her and tell him she DID get home—when, looking back at the window that could see him the longest, he watched until it was a glimmering square, he saw there one girl with a bright head and his gold ring on her finger, her arms around the neck of his dog. And the girl smiled as long as he could see her—and the dog watched with a rigid, painful anxiety. And over them hung a bright oblong of flag with a single scarlet star.

When the soldier-husband marched back again, swinging down the street with his heart knocking against his ribs and unable to breathe, in his window the flag was changed—it still was scarlet and white—but a chevron was added. And under its bright color were three instead of two—a girl and a dog with dancing eyes and—one other whom he tried hard to see through a mist of pride and tenderness; one other who sat with his round, fuzzy head against his mother's throat and her hands clasped round his person in the front where he was fattest. And all three were laughing aloud. But only two had any teeth to speak of!

Use Greens in Your Diet

By Loretto C. Lynch

NOW that Winter is here, the housewife must not neglect to put some "greens" into the diet. Sometimes we forget, when there are such goods things as mince pies and roast pork to eat, that greens are very necessary in the diet if the members of the family are to be in good health.

Of course the thrifty woman with storage space in her house has canned spinach, or dandelions or Swiss chard in her pantry, ready at a moment's notice. But if you haven't there is still hope. The average city dweller cannot afford the Southern or hothouse grown vegetables which the dealers so temptingly display. But a woman who watches the market closely can always get some kind of a "green" and enough of it for a family serving for very little money.

Greens or leafy vegetables have little food value, but they supply valuable mineral salts which the body requires. The greater the variety we eat the more nearly will we get the variety of salts needed. Then, too, greens furnish bulk to the diet and aid in the digestion of highly concentrated foods like meat and eggs.

Cabbage is classed as "greens." It is obtainable most anywhere at a low price. Shredded raw, seasoned and with the addition of a little oil and vinegar, it forms the basis for a number of varieties of cold slaw or cabbage salad.

All "head" vegetables should be soaked in salted water for a couple of hours. Invisible as well as visible insects will crawl out if this is done. Many folks cook cabbage too long, thus making it hard to digest. Cook it uncovered just until the midrib of the leaf is tender, usually not over twenty minutes. Serve cabbage chopped with a little white sauce or melted butter substitute.

Outside leaves of cabbage and lettuce may be purchased at great reduction and cooked after unsuitable parts have been carefully removed.

Each locality will have its own vegetables, but the prudent shopper will certainly be able to pick up a daily bargain if she keeps her eyes open.

One woman I know buys all the torn lettuce leaves the dealer has. From these she evolves a delicious cream of lettuce soup which has made her tea-room famous.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By Beatrice Fairfax

How Gain Her Love?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I met a girl whom I really love in an office. I waited till this girl had finished her day's work. We left the office together, after making friends, and I escorted her home. Now her actions toward me are very friendly and I really do love her and I would like to be advised how to strengthen our friendship. I have called her up a few times and she always has a welcoming voice for me.

F. N. B.

WHY don't you call again at the office and ask this girl's employer to give you a formal introduction to her? But after this omission has been supplied is it possible that you need any further advice as to how to proceed? Walk home with her again, ask permission to call—in short, follow the methods and devices successfully used by lovers everywhere.

Shall She Question Him?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am seventeen and have been friends with a young lady of the same age for the past three years. She has been going about for six months with a young man of twenty-one. Her mother is dead, and she has no one except her father to advise her. Her father approves of the young man.

Now, Miss Fairfax, my friend has asked me to question the young man and find out if he intends to continue going about with her. I would like you to tell me whether it is proper for me, as her most confidential friend, to do this under the circumstances.

A. E. W.

YOUR friend is very much mistaken in asking you to do this for her, and the young man might very properly resent such interference. As your friend is only seventeen she is still too young to think of marriage, and for the present I should say that it is wiser for her to pursue her friend- turning her thoughts too impatiently in that one direction. ships with young men without

Nothing to Do

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have been going about with a young man for a year. I love him very much and know my love is returned. Recently he stopped writing to me without any explanation. A few days before that I received a letter from some one else telling me he had been going about with another girl in his town. Now, Miss Fairfax, I was not engaged to this young man, but expected to be very soon, and as I am heartbroken over it, won't you please advise me what to do?

C. B. T.

IF you have already written to ask him why he has failed to write, I am afraid it is all you can do. Girls have to learn to face the unhappy fact that there are inconstant men in the world, just as there are inconstant women, although, since you were not engaged, the young man would doubtless feel that he could justify himself in his sudden transfer of attention.

The Heart Breaker

A PRESENT DAY AMERICAN ROMANCE

Interesting Story of Love at Cross Purposes of Two Sisters and a Man

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER XL.

AS Tom Chandler started down the path leading from the Brents' house he came face to face with Arthur Bruce.

Arthur's day had been full of anxieties. Not only had his father seemed more ill than usual, but business affairs were in a discouraging tangle. So absorbed was the lover in his musings that he almost collided with Tom before he saw him.

That Tom Chandler should be emerging from Mildred's home took Arthur so much by surprise that he blurted out his astonishment.

"Why—what are you doing here?" he exclaimed.

Chandler's recent conversation had left his nerves tingling. For some weeks he had enjoyed amusing himself with Mildred, and her attitude toward him now awakened his resentment.

"I have been calling on Mildred," he retorted coolly. "And, by the way, allow me to present my congratulations."

"Congratulations!" Arthur repeated the word involuntarily.

"Yes, on your engagement," Tom rejoined. "Your betrothed has honored me by taking me into her confidence to the extent of announcing the happy event to me. I have, naturally, congratulated her, too. But I must not detain you; I know she is expecting you. Good-night."

"Good night!" Arthur returned mechanically.

He stood still for a full minute after Chandler had left him, then went up the steps, his mind in a whirl.

"Hello!" Mildred's light voice greeted him as he entered the library. "Why—what's the matter?"

Arthur in Trouble

He kissed her before replying, but he did it with the manner of a man who has weightier matters than love-making on his mind.

"What's the matter?" the girl repeated.

"I am a bit puzzled," he said hesitatingly. "Of course, Milly," with an effort to speak frankly—"you have a right to do as you please—but we decided—didn't we?—that our engagement was not to be announced for a while?"

"Of course we did," she agreed. "You told your people—and I told mine—that's all."

A look of relief came to his face. Perhaps Tom Chandler had congratulated him only with the hope of ascertaining whether or not he was engaged to Mildred. But it was an underhanded way to learn the truth. If that was the fellow's object, he was a cad. The lover's face flushed angrily.

"Why?" Milly questioned. "Has any rumor of our engagement gotten about?"

"Chandler spoke to me about it just now," Arthur informed her. "I shall demand an explanation from him—and mighty soon, too. What right had he to say that you told him of it when you had not?"

All the color left Mildred's cheeks. She was frightened. Her mind worked quickly and she foresaw the consequences if Arthur should demand an explanation from Tom. Tom would tell the truth, and mercilessly. It would be wiser for her to forestall his action immediately. It was the only safe course left open to her.

"Arthur," she said quickly, "I did not acknowledge to you that I had mentioned our engagement to Tom because it seemed dishonorable to him to explain to you why I mentioned it. You see, dear, I had to tell him in order to make him believe that there was no hope for him."

"Then you did tell him?"

Like an Accusation

The words were more like an accusation than a question, and she answered promptly:

"I had to, Arthur. Can't I make you see how necessary it was? I would have been very cruel to let him go on hoping, and unless I hurt him he would not give up hope. So I had to hurt him. Dear, you see how it was, don't you?"

"Yes," slowly and gravely, "I see that you thought it was necessary, Mildred. But I did not understand before. I knew that Chandler admired you, but I did not suppose that it had gone so far——"

She interrupted him sharply. "You did not suppose that any man but you cared for me like that? Well, you see, Tom did—even more than you care for me, Arthur. For he would trust me in the face of anything. You wouldn't!"

"Milly!" His exclamation was full of pain. "How can you say such a thing?"

"Because it is true!" she insisted. "You are displeased and cross with me because I told an old friend of my engagement when it was absolutely necessary for his own sake that I do so."

"I am not displeased, dear, nor angry. I understand all about it now. But I was afraid that Chandler might talk about it."

"He won't. I can promise you that. But," her eyes snapping, "what if he did? It is not a disgraceful secret. It seems a pity that you should have asked me to marry you if you are so terrified lest people suspect that you are engaged to me."

Of course he had to protest and apologize and explain. He would announce the facts tomorrow if she wished. He had deferred doing so because he thought that a long engagement would be hard for her. If she did not mind, he surely did not.

At last she forgave him and agreed that they would best wait for a while longer before making the affair public.

"But you need not fear that Tom will tell our secret," she assured him. "He's too much hurt. So much hurt, in fact," dropping her voice to a confidential pitch, "that he confessed to me that he means to enlist very soon. I think that's pretty fine of him, don't you, Arthur?"

To Be Continued

Alice, Where Art Thou?

A group of housewives were having tea together at a restaurant, and talking over the events of the day. The question under discussion was to who had done most to win the war. Some said Haig, others Beatty, others Foch.

At last one woman chipped in:

"I don't know who done most to win the war," she said; "but I know who's been most talked about."

"Who's that?" came a chorus.

"Why, this 'ere Alice Lorraine that the French and Germans came to blows over!"

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Don't Use Curling Iron! Here's a Better Method

Thousands of ruined heads of hair bear striking testimony to the injurious effects of the heated curling iron. The continued use of such instrument invariably means dull, dry, shriveled hair, with split, broken, uneven ends.

If more women only knew it, the hair can be kept beautifully wavy, soft and fluffy—without any harmful result whatever—by the occasional use of plain liquid silmerine. A small quantity is applied before doing up the hair, using a clean toothbrush for the purpose, drawing this down the full length of the hair. The curly effect is quickly acquired and lasts quite a considerable time. It is so natural looking, and the texture and lustre of the hair are so improved, that the woman who adopts this simple method will never go back to the [illegible] waving iron. A few ounces of liquid silmerine from the druggist will last for weeks. The liquid is agreeable to use, and it leaves no gummy, greasy or odorous trace.—Advertisement.

THIN PEOPLE OF BOSTON

Bitro-Phosphate should give you a small, steady increase of firm, healthy flesh each day. It supplies an essential substance to the brain and nerves in the active form in which it normally occurs in the living cells of the body. Bitro-Phosphate replaces nerve waste and creates new strength and energy. Sold by all Boston druggists under definite guarantee of results or money back.—Advertisement.

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

"CALLUS CORNS" LIFT RIGHT OFF

Apply a few drops of "Freezone"—No pain!

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The oldtime mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Advertisement.

STOP DANDRUFF! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a cloth through your hair and double its beauty.

Spend a few cents! Dandruff vanishes and hair stops coming out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will, you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and relief for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Advertisement.

Stocks Above Lowest in Afternoon, but Market Is Weak

MOTOR ISSUES THE TRADING FEATURE

Studebaker Strong and Active and General Motors Makes Gain

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor.

Stocks were weak in New York in the afternoon, but above their low for the morning. The market was comparatively quiet. Money rates were firm, call money on mixed collateral loaning and renewing at 6 per cent, while the rate on all industrials was 6½ per cent. The advance in rates has had a tendency to restrict speculation. The market failed to fully recover during the forenoon or at midday from the effect of the early recession, but the tone seemed firmer at noontime and selling pressure had relaxed. There were strong spots in the list. Motors ruled higher, with Studebaker the feature, as did sugar issues. By afternoon Studebaker was up more than three points. It sold at its highest for the year. Other issues which had touched their highest for 1919 to date included Sumatra Tobacco, American Woolen common and American Sugar. Just before 2 o'clock buying of Kelly Springfield was resumed and it attained the new high record price of 107.

MOST ISSUES SHOWED LOSSES.

At the beginning of the last hour most active issues were showing losses. Declines included Mexican Petroleum 1¼ at 179¾, Pan American 1⅛ at 79¾, Hide and Leather preferred 1 at 92⅝, Baldwin 1¼ at 78⅜, U. S. Steel ⅜ at 94, Utah Copper ⅝ at 67⅜, Anaconda ⅜ at 59¼, Reading ½ at 81, Southern Pacific ½ at 102¼, and St. Paul 1¼ at 35⅛.

Among gains were Studebaker 3 at 57⅜; General Motors 1⅝ at 142⅝, Kelly Springfield ⅞ at 107; American Sugar ½ at 121¼; American Woolen common ⅝ at 56⅞ and National Enameling ⅜ at 52.

In Boston, where market was weak, declines included Calumet & Arizona 2⅜ at 57¼; New Haven ½ at 28 and Swift ⅜ at 123⅜.

MARKET OPENED WEAK.

When trading began, stocks were in greater supply than for a week, and prices eased off at the start, earliest declines ranging from fractions to a point. Losses speedily increased. Kelly-Springfield dropped more than three points within a few minutes, while U. S. Steel grew weaker. The realization selling which checked the advance yesterday was in evidence this morning and affected all classes of stock. At the end of twenty minutes the market was steadier and traders said that it had withstood profit-taking in a manner indicating underlying strength. The setback improved the technical position to a considerable extent no doubt. More satisfaction would have been gleaned from the advance if railway shares had responded better to the upward trend. But little could be expected of coppers, with metal falling in price, without inspiring any buying of this commodity.

WASHINGTON CLOSELY WATCHED.

More attention is being given to Washington now that President Wilson has returned, and great interest is taken in the possibility of price-fixing for steel. Reports are to the effect that steel prices are being shaded and that should have a great influence upon many lines of manufacturing. In industrial circles there is a disposition to postpone buying of basic materials to all possible extent. There is belief that commodity prices in general are going to be great deduced. Business is still hampered by many uncertainties and conservatism will control trade probably until peace terms are settled and the next government loan is arranged for. Sentiment is cheerful in most quarters and business reports and crop prospects are promoting confidence.

N. Y. COTTON MARKET IRREGULAR AT OPENING

New York, Feb. 25.—The cotton market opened irregular today with March 27 points higher and the remainder of the list 15 points higher to two points lower. Later the market eased 10 to 15 points. Foreign houses were buyers of new crops.

Opening prices were: March, 22.65; May, 21.75; July, 20.90; Oct., 19.85; Dec., [illegible].

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Corn opened ¼ to 1c higher. Oats were ⅛ to ⅝c higher. Provisions opened lower. Opening prices were: Corn—Feb., 1.33; March, 1.31½ to 1.32; May, 1.24⅝ to 1.25. Oats—Feb., 58¾; May, 59⅞ to 60. Ribs—May, 23.20; July, 22.00.

Wolverine Dividend Cut

The Wolverine Copper Mining Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share. Three months ago a $1 dividend was declared and nine months ago a semi-annual dividend of $3 was declared.

United Fruit Earnings

Earnings of the United Fruit Company during this fiscal year are said to be 40 per cent to 45 per cent larger than they were a year ago. This company now has in South America more undeveloped than developed banana territory, while in Cuba it has enough cane lands to cover its sugar needs for the next fifty to sixty years.

Chicago Meat Shipments

For the week ended Friday last Chicago shipments of cured and fresh meats totalled 113,127,000 pounds, compared with 48,654,000 for the corresponding period in 1918.

German Cotton Industry

It is stated that at the time the armistice was signed 97½ per cent of all the cotton mills in Germany were closed.

London Stock Market

London, Feb. 25.—Trading was quiet, but sentiment more cheerful on the stock exchange today. There is more hope of a settlement of coal labor dispute. Argentine rails hardened on reports of a strike adjustment. Mexican shares advanced; diamonds had a good tone and oils were irregular. Domestic issues improved in spots. Consols, war and foreign bond quotations were: consols 58⅛; 3½s war loan 87⅜; 5s 95, up 1-16; 4½s 99½, 4s 102; French 5s 84⅝, off ¼; Russian 5s 51¼, off 1; 4½s 45½, off ½; 4s 40½, off ½.

COPPER SELLS AT 15 CENTS A POUND

Transactions at That Price on Both Domestic and Foreign Account

Copper was sold in New York today for early delivery at 15 cents a pound. The seller was a small [illegible]. Another offered the metal at 15¼ cents. Leading selling agencies have reduced their price from 16 to 15½ cents a pound, but are said to be doing no business. Inquiries for copper are few. No interest is being shown by large consumers. Metal has been sold for export at 15 cents a pound f. o. b. New York.

In regard to the representatives of American copper producers now in Europe, a local financial publication prints the following:

"A private wire despatch quotes a prominent copper authority as saying: 'Mr. Glendennin's cable advices to American Smelting Company are a bit more cheerful. The copper party has not been [illegible] but has found only 100,000,000 pounds in England.'"

It is expected that arrangements will be announced this week for the marketing of about 110,000,000 pounds of copper held by the United States government.

Lead Price Advanced

New York, Feb. 25.—The American Smelting and Refining Co. has advanced its price for lead from 5.10 to 5.25 cents a pound. Recently it sold lead at 5 cents.

Lead Ore Price Higher

A Joplin dispatch says the lead market feature of last week was an advance of $5 per ton for lead ores carrying 80 per cent lead. This amounted to a 10 per cent advance over the previous week and is the first upward market movement of note for months. This week there was a small advance for second grade zinc ores from 50c to $1 per ton. The base range for second grades was from $41 to $42.50, while first grades remained steady at $45.

HOUSE OPPOSES EMBARGOES ON EXPORTS

Adopts Amendment Holding Up Appropriation for War Trade Board

Washington, Feb. 25.—The House has gone on record as opposed to embargoes on exports. It adopted an amendment to the sundry civil bill providing that no part of the appropriation for the War Trade Board shall be available so long as embargoes on the exportation of American goods and farm products remain in effect.

The amended paragraph makes available until the President's proclamation of peace any unexpended balance of $3,500,000 appropriated for the War Trade Board for the present fiscal year. The amendment was offered by Representative Brand of Georgia. Representative Steagall of Alabama offered an amendment to the amendment including peanut and cottonseed oils. Both were adopted.

Representative Ragsdale of South Carolina charged that English spinners are selling cotton short on the American exchanges in an effort to beat down the prices, and this government, through embargoes, is denying its citizens their right to sell their goods in the markets of the world.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming said all embargoes ought to be done away with "whenever and wherever possible. They hamper and restrict trade."

Corporation Earnings

For 1918 the Superior Steel Corporation reports, after charges and Federal taxes, a surplus of $821,504, equivalent after preferred dividends to $7.90 a share on common stock, compared with $9.96 in 1917.

The $709,172 surplus reported for 1918 by the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co. is equal to 33.4 per cent. on second preferred stock, compared with 34.9 per cent for the previous year.

Butte and Superior's profits of $98,507 for the December quarter of last year was the poorest showing made by this company for any quarter since the September quarter of 1917, when operations were crippled by a strike at Butte.

100 PER CENT. PROFITS MADE ON FISH

Dealers' Claim of Big Overhead Expenses Not Warranted by Facts of Case

Fish retailers, who claim that their present charges on fish are based on percentage, with overhead expenses eating heavily into the net profits on goods sold, can sell fish at one-quarter of a cent profit as revealed by a comparative investigation by the Boston American.

Retail dealers in Greater Boston buy fresh cod from ten to twelve cents per pound from wholesalers and sell this commodity in the vicinity of twenty cents, claiming the difference is necessary profit in view of their overhead expenses.

This overhead expense is transportation, light, heat, and store rent, they claim. It is believed, however, that a profit of nearly 100 per cent. is not essential as a means of neutralizing this so-called overhead expense, thus these fish charges are excessive.

The same applies to haddock. This fish the retailer purchases at present from the wholesale dealer at approximately four and one-half cents, yet the retail dealer believes it consistent with his overhead expense policy to charge from 10 to 12 cents per pound for this food, again a clear profit of over 100 per cent.

The statement that the overhead expense is responsible for the extra large charges is doubted, since it is believed that these expenses are not one-half as large as claimed.

Fish, while a perishable commodity, permits of no great loss from this source, since the dealers buy within their limit to market the goods, thus have no excuse on the grounds that there is a heavy perishable loss to be made up.

RANSDELL ASKS SENATE BACK MERCHANT MARINE

Washington, Feb. 25.—A strong plea for government ownership of the merchant marine was made by Senator Ransdell of Louisiana in the Senate in a speech on "The American Shipping Problem."

Senator Ransdell quoted figures to show that if the government retains the tonnage now owned by the United States and embarks upon a settled policy of increasing the shipping, America within ten or twenty years will have a government-owned merchant marine larger than that of any other nation.

The total tonnage under the American flag in 1920 if present contracts are carried out will be 19,000,000 tons, he said.

Increases Capital Stock

The capital stock of the Pittsfield Electric Company has been increased to $500,00 by the issuance of addition stock to the amount of $125,000.

AVERT STRIKE IN BUILDING TRADES

Agreement to Arbitrate Stops Nation-Wide Labor Trouble

Washington, Feb. 25.—Danger of a nation-wide strike of building trades workers is averted by the action of a conference at the War Department in which representatives and employes and workers and Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of Labor Wilson participated.

Under the agreement men already out are to immediately return to work and the differences be submitted to a conference committee of three representatives, each of employes and employers.

If there are points of dispute on which this committee cannot agree they are to be referred to an umpire, who is to be Judge Henry P. Dugro of New York, who shall render a decision within two weeks from the date a question is submitted.

The trouble arose over the demands of New York union carpenters, who demanded an increase of $1 per day, or $5.50. Employers expressed a willingness to grant some advance but not the full increase asked and the carpenters went out, followed by workers of allied trades on a sympathetic strike. The trouble has spread until men are out in various parts of the country until it is now said about 125,000 are affected.

After the walkout, employers refused to agree to arbitration until the men went back to work. The agreement reached, under which many of the strikers will return to work, was suggested by Secretary Baker.

U. S. INDUSTRIES DUE FOR BOOM, SAYS SCHWAB

Steel Magnate Says Workingman Is Entitled to His Beer

New York, Feb. 25.—"President Wilson is winning the esteem of Europe for himself and for the American people by his projects and methods," said Charles M. Schwab upon landing from the British liner Olympic. "When I saw him at Brest the day he sailed, he was very hopeful and pleased.

"There is a great period of prosperity ahead for us right in our own country," continued Mr. Schwab. "I hope that some method can be found for the local occupation of all industry over the period of transition."

OPPOSES PROHIBITION.

The steel man declared himself opposed to prohibition. He said:

"Our boys in the occupied parts of Germany, which I visited in automobiles I borrowed from Winston Churchill and General Pershing, seemed very glad to get there. They were tired of France and did not think the French were very well. The prices they paid were also pretty steep.

"Neither they nor the other folks in Europe credit us with putting through prohibition. They do not believe it is possible. And while I am not a drinking man—I never drink anything stronger than water—I am against prohibition.

ENTITLED TO BEER.

"I believe the working man is entitled to his beer. I do not think such legislation has a good effect. If you prohibit a man having something he wants, he thinks he is losing his liberty and he will employ other means to get it.

"It is just such measures as this that aggravate the spirit of Bolshevism that exists among some of the classes of workingmen, and I hope it will not go into effect."

EXPECT A REDUCTION IN PRICES FOR STEEL

In New York, according to latest dispatches, a reduction is looked for in the price of steel products and in some quarters the prediction is made that readjustments will have been made by April 1. An average cut of $4 a ton has been suggested, although some producers doubt if that will be enough to induce the buying hoped for. The high rate of wages being paid is the main obstacle.

It is reported that some producers are shading prices now, sales of steel bars at $2.40, Pittsburgh, being cited as evidence. The generally quoted price is $2.70, Pittsburgh. The tonnage involved was small.

You'll spend the money
---Get the most out of it

Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat, house furnishings, garden seeds and tools and what not.

There's one sure way to get the most for your money. Know what you want before you go to buy.

READ ADVERTISEMENTS. The advertisements you read will tell you what is new and good. They will give you the latest ideas and improvements. They will help you to live better and dress better at less cost.

If you think of it, you'll be surprised at the world of interest and the wealth of new ideas you'll find in reading advertisements.

Advertisements are the daily record of progress. They are the report to you of the manufacturers and merchants who work for you, telling what has been accomplished for your benefit.

No. 1

FILING TIME FOR INCOME GROWS SHORT

But eighteen days remain in which to file your 1918 income tax return. Time for filing returns expires on March 15. Blanks upon which to make individual tax returns on incomes of less than $5,000 have been mailed to all who filed a return last year. Individuals affected by the revenue law must voluntarily file a return whether they receive notice to do so or not.

Forms for returns of individual incomes in excess of $5,000 will be distributed by Collector John F. Malley within a few days. Corporation blanks will be distributed by March 1. Regulations governing the administration of the income tax will also be available before March 1 in room 10, Little Building, Boylston and Tremont streets.

Collector Malley has approved a novel feature, since adopted in other collection districts throughout the country, which will serve for all practical purposes as a possible extension of forty-five days' time for the filing of corporation income and excess profit tax returns in cases where corporations are unable to complete and file their returns by March 15.

If a corporation finds that for good and sufficient reason it is impossible to complete its returns by March 15 it may make a return of the estimated tax due and make payment thereof not later than March 15. If meritorious reason is shown as to why the corporation is unable to complete its return by the specified date, Collector Malley will accept the payment of the estimated tax and agree to accept the revised and completed tax return within a period of not more than forty-five days.

The Strike Situation in Lawrence

It is high time for a little plain speaking about the situation in Lawrence. The American holds no brief for any of the parties in the controversy. It wants the mill owners to have full protection for their property and for any employes who may choose to accept their terms. It wants the strikers to have the full enjoyment of their constitutional rights of free speech, assembly and remonstrance against the acceptance by others of the terms of employment that they reject, subject to strict responsibilities for speeches that are incentive to violence or intimidation of would-be workers or for any unlawful act.

It demands of the authorities, State or municipal, that they confine themselves with absolute impartiality to the maintenance of order and especially that they carefully guard against any such illegal abuse of police authority as brought national disgrace upon the city of Lawrence and in some measure upon the entire Commonwealth in the strike of 1912. It urges the mill owners, the authorities and the public alike not to allow any hysteria over the spread of Bolshevism to blind them to the truth so clearly expressed by Mr. Hearst in his reply to Senators Reed, Overman and Thomas a few days ago, that the only sure preventive of Bolshevism is granting social justice and that the denial of social justice is the surest way to make convincing and therefore dangerous whatever Bolshevik propaganda may be attempted in America. On these questions there ought to be no difference of opinion among thoughtful patriots.

Whether the sympathies of the public should be with the mill owners or with the strikers must be determined by the facts in the case, some of which are briefly these: The textile workers of America last December resolved to demand from the mills an eight-hour day, leaving the question of wages in abeyance just as it was left in abeyance by the fifty-four-hour law enacted in 1911. The American Woolen Company enclosed in the weekly payroll envelopes a slip informing the operatives that the mills would go upon an eight-hour basis, but the weekly pay would be correspondingly reduced, namely, forty-eight hours pay for forty-eight hours work. The operatives refused, as in 1912, to accept the reduction and struck for a continuance of their old weekly pay.

The American does not doubt the ability of the mills to continue the old wage in spite of the reduction in hours. Moral considerations aside, however, it is their right to operate on the lower wages if their employes are willing to accept them. It is the undoubted right of the strikers also to refuse to work for wages that they consider too low.

The conduct of the strikers has in the main been free from blame, and their leaders have warned them that recourse to violence would be fatal to their cause. On the other hand, however, the city authorities, and the police under their orders, from the beginning have adopted tactics intended to intimidate the strikers. By forbidding mass meetings and parades and using at times unnecessary roughness the local authorities are aiding the strikers and ultimately will breed the very bitterness and antagonism that they are striving to repress.

The Fifty Billion Fortune

It May Come This Century

Copyright, 1919, by Star Company

How money would grow if the law and common sense would let it. You see a beautiful picture of Mrs. Madeleine Force-Astor-Dick and read of her motherly devotion. Her little boy, John Jacob Astor, inherited three million dollars from his father. The mother is saving every penny of that little nest egg, spending her own money on the child. When he is twenty-one years old his three millions will have grown to $8,557,889.

At the bottom of the same page you read that Mr. Sol M. Stroock, the able financial and real estate lawyer, files his report of the estate of Mrs. Flagler. The unfortunate woman is insane. Her husband left her two million dollars. The property now amounts to $7,950,327.

These are tiny sums. What would happen if John D. Rockefeller should decide to tie his fortune up until his youngest grandchild should be seventy-five years old?

Take paper and pencil for your amusement and figure what a fortune of two thousand millions, and an annual income of more than a hundred millions saved up, reinvested and made greater every year by the rising price of gasoline and oil, would amount to in three-quarters of a century.

It would be possible with a little good luck and careful management to build up a Rockefeller fortune of fifty thousand million dollars upon which the public at large would pay annual interest in the sum of two thousand five hundred million dollars at five per cent.

That would make a very comfortable income. Probably something drastic would have to be done in the way of income tax on that, if the owner would allow it. At present, as you know, the man with a hundred millions of income pays no higher percentage of tax on that income than the man whose income is only ONE million.

They increase your tax very rapidly when you go from $5,000 a year to $10,000, and from $10,000 to $100,000. But when they get up to $1,000,000 a year, the gentlemen who make up the tax seem to lose interest. When they reach the income of a million a year, which is more common now than the total fortune of a million used to be—when Rockefeller was a boy—the legislators become confused and seem to say, "There can't be any such money."

The man with twenty, fifty or a hundred millions of income pays no higher income tax percentage than is charged on one million.

That million mark seems to inspire great respect.

Probably if the fifty thousand million dollar fortune does come, and there is no reason why it shouldn't—if the United States Congress carries out its present plan for giving away all the remaining national resources—there will have to be some real taxing.

A good many things may happen in the next seventy-five years, however. Men may lose their interest in vast accumulations, or the public may TAKE an interest in them.

"No Man's Land"

By Paul Harris Drake

THERE'S a vale of fear in a land of pain
Where never a masculine mortal trod;
O, the way is dark, and the path is long:
There nobody knows, or cares—but GOD!

There the nurses tread with a softer step;
And the skillful man in the apron white
Gives orders curt, arranges his kit.
And measures her pulse and the time of night.

Sing not to me now of the shell-torn fields
And the bloody welter of No Man's Land—
For I've been with her down to the gates of death—
And I've smoothed her brow, and I've held her hand.

As into the valley of shadow-land
She sank all trembling, yet unafraid;
She writhed with the wrack of the primal plan
And her nails dug deep; I—pitying—prayed!

Mid the mad suspense of that dread ordeal—
In a single hour she underwent
More than heroes brave or than martyrs feel—
Yet emerged from "no man's land"—unspent!

Aye—sing no more of the battlefield
Or of serried hosts or valiant band—
For I've been with her down to the gates of death,
And I've worshipped the hero of NO MAN'S LAND!

Letters to the Editor

Cambridge Service

Editor Boston American:

Knowing that you are always interested in anything of benefit to the public I wish to call your attention to one of the most inconvenient features of the poor service offered the public by the Boston Elevated Railway System.

Before it became necessary to conserve coal, the Cambridge Tunnel service was run until 12:40 a. m., but on account of the fuel situation service in the tunnel was cut down so that the last train was run around 11:45 p. m. Of course, theatres were closing early at that time and dance halls were closed and the public were not so much inconvenienced as they would be at any other time. But the thing I want most to bring to your attention is the fact that this service has never been restored. Is it that the Boston Elevated System is trying to impose on the public as usual or don't they know that the war is over and with it the shortage of coal?

It seems to me that for a city of its size Boston is entitled to better service late at night than it gets. If you were to get into the South Station about 12:15 a. m. you would find the tunnel closed and more than likely have to resort to that absurd Adams square system, and then, perhaps, you would have to walk there.

This is a question of which I have heard much talk, but nothing seems to be done about it. I am sure if you would give this matter a little publicity in your valuable paper it would be sure to bring some results.

Labor Battalion

Editor Boston American:

As your paper has been very generous to soldiers and sailors, we of the 443rd Reserve Labor Battalion, Camp Devens, hope that you will publish at least a few lines of the facts regarding our organization. We are exceedingly anxious to be discharged from the service, but we have not yet received favorable consideration nor can we obtain any information as to when we may hope to be mustered out. We know that we have been discriminated against, and wish to submit a few facts. Some of us have been here for nearly twelve months, were not fit for overseas duty and were placed in the Development Battalion, which is first to be mustered out. As soon as the armistice was signed we were transferred to this so-called organization and all the while soldiers were kept in the Development Battalion and were sent home. We know that we are black in the face, but we are true born Americans who will never be traitors to our country. We have fought in this great war and we are a part of it, so we ask for justice. Lots of us have jobs awaiting us. Some of our employers wrote to our commanding officers, but nothing is done to release us. Some of us have our people depending on us, not getting anything from the government here working seven days a week for a dollar a day. We don't think Washington, D. C., knows anything about it.

SCIENCE OF CHEMISTRY AS RELATED TO LIFE

By Garrett P. Serviss

THE modern chemist gets his mental eye inside the molecules of matter, and, finding out how the atoms are joined together to make up the molecules, he takes them apart, rejects some of them, puts the remainder together again, and lo! he has obtained an improved, if not an absolutely new, substance.

Now, if this were all, the general public would not be permanently interested. It would look upon the chemist as an ingenious boy playing with soap bubbles for his amusement. But, the subject assumes another complexion when we know that by his analysis and synthesis (taking apart and putting together) of the molecules, the chemist is beginning to give the world new foods, new industrial products, and new medicines and other means of combating disease, and so making life longer, happier and more comfortable.

And, more than that, the chemist believes that he is getting every day nearer to the secret of life itself. It is no wonder, then, that we hear chemists talking enthusiastically about the romance of their work. There is an appearance of magic about the operation of chemical forces that fascinates the most unemotional worker in a chemical laboratory.

The Thrills of Science

It thrills him to "see" the atoms leap to their combinations, swing into their orbits, hold their respective places and distances, gather themselves in groups of twos, and threes, and fives, and dozens, or form their circling squadrons like microscopic airplanes, and all this within the compass of a single molecule of matter. And yet deeper becomes the thrill when he finds that he can take the matter out of nature's fingers and put together the atoms and so make the molecules, and even vary their combinations, to suit himself.

This can, as yet, be done in only a few instances and on a small scale, but the way is opened, and the power is in the hands of man. The feat has been accomplished in the manufacture of artificial indigo, in the production of a long series of colors in dyes.

By studying the molecular structure of fundamental dyes, seeing how the atoms are arranged in their molecules, taking them apart and putting them together, and to a certain extent varying the combinations, "chemistry," says Professor Stieglitz of the Chicago University, "has gained for man supreme and practically unlimited power over the whole problem of color."

The story of the development of specific agents for fighting certain kinds of disease, agents that, like trained soldiers, go straight at the enemy and strike him down without harm to innocent bystanders, is another example. In one of these cases the chemist actually "abandoned the ordinary path of taking a natural product, like indigo, cocaine or atropine, and finding out the secret of the constellation nature had constructed," for, "Ehrlich (inventor of salvarsan) struck out to build his own cunning molecular contrivance to kill the invading germ without harm to the host, and brilliantly succeeded."

Vast Possibilities Open

Who can guess how far this road may lead? There is no reason to suppose that many other specific agents for overcoming disease may not be discovered, or manufactured, some by following nature and giving her a little special guidance; others by boldly using the imagination, under the control of science, and persuading the atoms into new combinations for the service of man.

What pursuit in life could a young man, ambitious to make his personality count in the sum of things, better choose than that of the chemist, before whom such boundless fields of exploration extend?

READ THE SPEECH

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

President Wilson's speech to the crowd in Mechanics Hall is today in the hands of all the people. The man who does not read it through and digest it cannot pretend to discuss with intelligence the most important question in the world, or to defend the President against attacks made by those that hate him, for putting the cost of war, PARTLY, on the backs of the rich, through a just income tax.

The President's extemporaneous talk in Mechanics Hall may give to the general public a better idea of the peace league, and the arguments in favor of it, than will be given by his later, carefully-prepared speech to the members of Congress.

In the speech made yesterday Mr. Wilson makes clear to Americans this outstanding fact:

The world is in danger of continuous warfare, absolute disruption of industry and of civilized society itself.

The hope of the world is in the United States, which comes out of the war strong. It has no selfish European interests to serve, and, as the President says, "America is trusted throughout the world."

If we should choose to shut ourselves up within our shell, trying to go it alone on the earth, thinking only of our interests, we should betray those very interests. For that which affects all the rest of the world is bound to affect us. In a condition that might set fire to the rest of the world, we should not escape a scorching.

This country has to think of many things in connection with the proposed peace league, not merely about what would be apparently best for the selfish interests of the United States. Thanks to wireless, submarines and flying machines, we are much nearer now to Central Europe than Russia was to France in the Crimean war. What concerns Europe concerns us and we are our European brothers' keeper, whether we like the job or not.

In Central Europe the people of Bavaria murder their prime minister because he wants a republic. Next day, in central Asia, they murder their Amir.

Out in Afghanistan, near Persia, Kashmir, Beluchistan and other queer places, the people are ruled by the Amir, the Sirdars, Khans and Mullahs, respectively representing in authority the nation, the nobles, the people and the Mohammedan religion.

There seems to be something of a rebellion against everything in Afghanistan, as in Russia, autocracy, constitutional government and religious influence being equally objectionable.

It is a feverish world and needs a good doctor.

The President's speech carries the most serious warning concerning world conditions that this country has heard. And it is supported only too powerfully by Lloyd George's speech in the House of Commons yesterday warning the people that Great Britain "is faced with the prospect of civil strife."

That is a serious statement for a British Prime Minister to make.

The British are lucky to have at the head of their nation, as we have in the United States, a man who takes seriously not only the requests of the few that own the wealth of the country, but also the requests, the unrest and discontent of the many that produce the wealth of the country.

The world's problems are serious, but such men as Lloyd George in England and Woodrow Wilson in America will solve the problems peacefully, if the blatherskites of the gutter and the more dangerous blatherskites hired as lawyers by the great corporations will permit it.

A Frenchman is said to have invented the one thing that the flying machine needs, extremely simple, like all great discoveries.

Hitherto the higher the machine went the more slowly it traveled. Rarefied air in the engine weakened it as much as fifty per cent. only fifteen thousand feet up. Flying machines of the future going long distances will travel at least thirty-two thousand feet up where no wind blows, except the gentle eastern wind caused by the earth's motion on its axis. The Frenchman's invention adds to the flying engine a little turbine contrivance that compresses rarefied air, giving the engine the food it needs and its full speed at a great height, much greater speed, in fact, since the thinner air offers less resistance.

This invention by the Frenchman will be as important to the flying machine as the invention of the little boy anxious to play instead of watching the steam in the engine. He invented an automatic escape, that gave him a chance to play and made the engine safe.
